Woman Sees Son Stab His Father

Charge of Murder Filed Against Man, 27, in Galveston

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 10 (AP)—A horrified woman college professor watched her son stab his father to death yesterday.

The son, a 27-year-old- psychiatric patient, was found unconscious beside the knife-carved body of his father.

Detective Chief W. J. Burns said a charge of murder had been filed against Frank Deupree, Jr.

Frank Deupree, 58-year-old vocational agriculture instructor, was stabbed and hacked at least 25 times with a butcher knife.

Young Deupree's mother, Mrs. Irene Deupree, professor of home economics at Southwestern University, Georgetown, Tex., said she and her husband had been in Galveston about a week visiting the son, an outpatient at the John Sealy Hospital.

Monday night, she said, doctors had decided her son was so despondent that he should be re-admitted to the hospital.

Came to Visit Them

After his readmission, the mother said, the son—not kept under close confinement—came to visit them at a boarding home while they packed to return to Georgetown. "He seemed perfectly normal," she said.

Mrs. Deupree said she left the room a moment, heard screams, and rushed back to see the two men scuffling. Officers said young Deupree, a navy veteran, had been under psychiatric care since 1949.

Harveys Are Freed In County Court

Held in Malnutrition Death of Child—Mental Pain Seen Sufficient

Robert and Margaret Harvey, 46 Locust avenue, this city, who were charged with violation of Section 483 of the Penal Law, growing out of the death of their five months old daughter from malnutrition, entered a plea of guilty to violation of Section 43 of the Penal Law, a misdemeanor, when arraigned in County Court this morning before Judge John M. Cashin.

Section 43 of the penal code describes no specific crime but is an "omnibus statute" in which are lumped charges not specified in other acts listed under the code.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey were represented in court by William A. Kelly who asked the court to consider the penalty which the parents had already paid for their neglect. He said they would carry upon their minds for the rest of their lives the result of the affair.

Plea Is Accepted

District Attorney Bruhn accepted the plea and prior to sentencing the couple Judge Cashin agreed with Attorney Kelly that the couple had already been severely punished through the death of their five months old daughter, Susan Ann, who died as a result of malnutrition. The indictment charged the act had been committed during the months of December 1951 and January of this year.

Coroner Gave Verdict

The infant was found dead in her crib January 2, 1952. At that time it was believed that the child had suffocated during the

Stevenson's Name to Go on Ballot; Asked to Campaign for Eisenhower

Amarillo, Tex., Sept. 10 (AP)—The organized Democratic party of Texas has marched lock, stock and barrel into the camp of Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Republicans.

They also made certain that other Texas Democrats—thus far unorganized—could vote for Adlai Stevenson on the general election ballot in the usual Democratic column.

The Democrats who hollered themselves hoarse in convention yesterday catcalling and hooting Stevenson, President Truman, and administration politics, fulfilled the pledge made by their leader to win seats in the National Convention at Chicago.

Gov. Allan Shivers had promised to do all in his power to put Stevenson's name on the ballot as a Democrat, and he did.

Ike Gets Green Light

Then, with the governor's blessing, the convention gave every Democrat in Texas the green light to join the Eisenhower forces that have high hopes of carrying Texas this year.

Its resolution, adopted by a whopping voice vote, went further and asked the governor and other party officials to campaign for Eisenhower.

Shivers, who once urged Eisenhower as a possible Democratic nominee, said last night he wanted to think it over before saying what he would do about it.

Mexico Would Send POWs to Neutrals

Mexico City, Sept. 10 (AP)—Mexico has suggested to the United Nations a new plan to end the Korean war prisoner deadlock. It calls for immigration to neutral countries of all POWs who do not wish to return home.

A foreign office spokesman said last night the proposal was delivered to UN Secretary Trygve Lie several days ago and distributed among the 60 member nations. Unofficial sources said the U.S. regarded the idea favorably.

Meanwhile, a Peiping radio broadcast heard in Tokyo said the Korean armistice negotiations were "hanging by a thread."

Chinese and North Korean negotiators in the armistice talks maintain that all their 116,000 military prisoners in UN hands must be sent home. The UN has offered to return 83,000 but refused to send back another 87,000, including civilian prisoners, who have said they would resist repatriation.

Hill Seized By ROKs in Wild Charge

U. S. Officer Says South Koreans on Hill to Stay; Climaxes Five Days

Pilots Give Aid

Planes Help Soften Chinese Defenses on Capitol Hill

Seoul, Korea, Sept. 10 (AP)—Battle-hardened South Korean infantrymen recaptured Capitol Hill in a wild night bayonet charge and then threw back counterattacking Chinese at daybreak today.

A U. S. Eighth Army staff officer said "the ROKs (Republic of Korea troops) are on that hill to stay."

In five days of vicious close-in fighting for the central front hill, troops of the crack Capitol Division have killed or wounded at least 2,300 Chinese, the Eighth Army estimated. That is nearly the equivalent of a Red regiment.

Fighting for the hill has produced the heaviest Communist artillery barrages of the war.

Planes Soften Chinese

Fifth Air Force pilots helped soften Chinese defenses before the Koreans began their victorious fight up the slopes of Capitol Hill.

The air force said 70 individual flights were made over the hill by fighter bombers, raking the Chinese with machine gun fire, bombs and flaming jellied gasoline. The day's final air blow was just at dusk . . . six 1,000-pounds bombs, four jellied gasoline bombs and 46 250-pound bombs.

UN artillery then took over and pounded the hill crest and Red approach routes with a murderous barrage.

South Korean infantrymen attacked at 7:55 p. m. The going was tough. Despite the air attacks and the thunderous UN artillery barrage, the Reds sent shells screaming against the advancing Koreans.

Inched Way Up Slope

Sturdy Korean riflemen inched their way up the rocky slope and in a final charge with bayonets cleaned out the last of the Chinese on the crest at 11:50 p. m.

The Chinese regrouped for a counterattack but artillery chopped up three companies as they massed for an assault. Another company charged at 5:37 a. m. That 180-man force was beaten back 40 minutes later.

There were only sporadic small arms fights elsewhere on the front, the Eighth Army said.

Wholesale Market Food Prices Show Sharpest Drop

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Wholesale food prices this week posted their sharpest overall drop in nearly two years, according to the Dunn & Bradstreet food index.

The index dropped from $6.70 last week (the year's high) to $6.60 this week, and was 2.8 per cent below the year-ago week's $6.79.

This represented the largest week-to-week decline since early October of 1950 when wholesale food prices turned downward briefly after weeks of spiralling higher following the outbreak of the Korean war. At that time the index fell 11 cents to $6.50.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Accounting for much of this week's decline were price reductions of meats and livestock. Lower in wholesale cost were beef, hams, steers, hogs, lambs, bellies, lard, butter, cocoa, prunes and barley.

Higher were flour, wheat, rye; oats, cottonseed oil, potatoes and currants.

Timone Says State Board Halted Ousting of Teachers

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—New York city's efforts to weed Communist teachers out of its school system were halted by a State Education Department ruling, says a city school official.

George H. Timone, head of the Board of Education's Law Committee, gave the testimony yesterday before a U. S. Senate Internal Subcommittee seeking to determine whether there is organized subversion in the nation's educational system.

The subcommittee meets again in open session this afternoon with 10 public school teachers subpoenaed to testify.

In his testimony yesterday, Timone said the State Education Department last April had stayed the city board from suspending teachers who had refused to answer questions on possible Red links and from questioning additional teachers.

He said the state board had acted on an appeal of eight city teachers suspended for refusing to answer questions about possible Communist ties.

The New York Times reported today that shortly after Timone's appearance before the subcommittee yesterday a letter was received by city officials from Albany lifting the state board's stay.

In addition to the eight suspended teachers, eight other teachers have been fired from the

In War of Roses

State Supreme Court Justice James B. M. McNally, above, will preside over Broadway Billy Rose's biggest production—his divorce suit with Eleanor Holm. The Big Stem's juiciest scandal in years is scheduled to move into McNally's 100-seat courtroom in New York city on Sept. 10.

Separation Given To Eleanor Holm; Rose Ends Defense

McNally Grants Decree in Supreme Court —Basis Allowed Is Cruelty

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Eleanor Holm was granted a separation today from her little showman husband, Billy Rose, after Rose halted his divorce suit and withdrew defenses to her separation action.

State Supreme Court Justice James B. M. McNally granted the decree, ringing down the curtain on the Roses' courtroom drama less than three hours after it began.

The separation decree was granted on grounds of both abandonment and cruelty. The latter ground was added with permission of the court on the basis that Rose's divorce action against his wife and his failure to prove charges of adultery was "inhuman and cruel treatment."

Alimony Hearing Oct. 15

Rose's attorney, Arthur Garfield Hays, reserved the right to contest the amount of alimony to be set by Judge McNally. A hearing to determine alimony will be held Oct. 15.

Miss Holm's attorney, Louis Nizer, accepted what he termed Rose's "surrender and confession" to his 38-year-old former swimming star wife.

Hays said the producer moved to withdraw the divorce action and all charges connected with it. Under New York law, adultery is the only basis for divorce. Rose had charged his wife with misconduct with five men.

Hays said the case had "provided a Roman holiday" in the newspapers, which had described it as "the war of the Roses." The historical war by that name lasted 30 years and caused great suffering, he said.

'Mud Bath' Expected

The public expected "that these parties would put each other through a mud bath," Hays said. He added that Rose had "no desire for anything of the kind and that "neither he nor I have the stomach or heart to engage in a mud-slinging contest with Eleanor."

In accepting Rose's announcement, Nizer said, however, that he did not accept the "excuse given"—that the withdrawal was brought about so that Mrs. Rose would not be hurt by the testimony.

Rose stared intenly at his wife as he took a seat in the small courtroom. She looked away from him.

After a brief conference at the bench, Justice McNally went into his chambers with Louis Nizer and Walter Beck, counsel for the 38-year-old Miss Holm.

Seated Opposite Wife

Rose and his counsel remained seated opposite his wife and her other attorneys at the counsel table in front of the bench.

Miss Holm was joined at the table by Mrs. Effie Milford, a long-time friend who said she'd spent the night with Miss Holm and would "stay by her" during the trial.

Miss Holm entered the courthouse by a rear door. Rose strode in by the front entrance between flanks of photographers and reporters. He gave a tight-lipped smile and said "no comment" to reporters' questions about an out-of-court settlement.

Miss Holmn wore a black crepe dress, slit low in the back, a black hat, black pumps and white gloves. At her neck was a St. Christopher medal which she has worn since she was a 13-year-old swimmer.

Shortly after 9:30 a. m. Nizer and Beck emerged from the judge's chambers. A moment later they went back in with Arthur Garfield Hays, chief counsel to Rose.

Hearty Support Pledged in So-Called Taft Territory—Whacks at Administration

Goes to Capital

General Will Have Talk With National GOP Committee Staff

Indianapolis, Sept. 10 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower wound up a midwest campaign tour today with promises of hearty support in so-called Taft territory.

Police estimated that at least a half million Hoosiers turned out to welcome the Republican presidential nominee yesterday and last night in Indianapolis.

That was his last stop before flying to Washington today for a brief chat with the GOP National Committee staff. He will continue on by plane to New York this afternoon.

Indiana, like Ohio, gave its support to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention at Chicago last July.

But in both states, Eisenhower won pledges of all-out support from party leaders, and an endorsement from Taft. And in Indianapolis, the heavy public outpouring gave the general hope of grass roots strength.

Will Meet General

Taft, who was in Washington during Eisenhower's midwest trip, is slated to meet the general soon to determine how much of a part he will play in the campaign.

Police estimated that 350,000 persons welcomed Eisenhower as he drove into Indianapolis in the afternoon.

As the general drove from his hotel to the Butler University Field House for an address last night, crowds were lined in the darkness on both sides of the street along almost every foot of the five-mile route.

Police estimated this outpouring at 125,000.

The field house was packed to the rafters with about 15,000 persons and another 10,000 or 12,000 were seated in a football stadium nearby to listen to the speech over an amplifying system.

Gibes at Stevenson

In the speech, broadcast nationwide, Eisenhower delivered another of his increasingly frequent gibes at his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Hitting the Democratic administration of President Truman as one that "fumbles and stumbles and falls flat on its face every couple of weeks," Eisenhower said:

"Why, my distinguished opponent is using every trick in the book to get himself off the hook of the present administration's record."

"When the hand-picked heir wants no part of the heirlooms, why should we?"

The allied wartime field commander was interrupted 45 times by applause.

Hits Bare-Faced Looters

Eisenhower said he went into politics because "no American can stand one side while his country becomes the prey of fear-Mongers, quack doctors and bare-faced looters."

In his quest for midwest support, Eisenhower:

In Cleveland complimented Ohioans on their loyalty to Sen. Taft and expressed hope of meeting him soon.

In Indianapolis, flatly endorsed the reelection bid of Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, who bitterly criticized Eisenhower's wartime

Adlai Supports Foreign Policy

Declares U. S. Must Assist Asia to Prevent Red Domination

San Francisco, Sept. 10 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson stood solidly today on the foreign policy of the Truman administration and, with a warning of peril, outlined a program for action in Asia.

"America is threatened as never before," he said.

The way to avert it, he told a nationwide television and radio audience from San Francisco, is to give material aid to the new nations of Asia, to recognize their desire for independence, and to show them that the United States is not pursuing a policy of domination.

Speaking with unusual seriousness, the Democratic candidate for the presidency made these points last night:

1. . . "I do not think war is an inevitable part of this contest between freedom and tyranny."

2. . . "With 85 per cent of our budget allocated to defense, it is the Soviet Union which now fixed the level of our defense expenditures and thus our tax rates."

Hits 10-Point Program

3. . . Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower's "10-point program * * * does not contribute much to our foreign policy discussion."

4. . . "I believe we may in time look back at Korea as a major turning point in history—turning point which led not to another war, but to the first historic demonstration that an effective system of collective security is possible."

5. . . "I want to assure our friends in Asia that America will never seek to dominate their po-

GOP Shows Strength in Eastern Polls as Masses Turn Out to Cast Votes

Salt Lake City, Sept. 10 (AP)—Sen. Arthur V. Watkins built up a commanding lead early today over Marriner S. Eccles for the Republican nomination for the Senate in returns from Utah's primary election.

A heavy turnout Tuesday indicated wide interest in races for the nomination for the Senate, two congressional seats and governor.

Rep. Walter K. Granger took an insurmountable lead over former Gov. Herbert B. Maw for the Democratic nomination for the senate.

Zelnick-Miller Case Adjourned 24th Time

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Trial of former Tax Agent Ernest Zelnick and Harold Miller, an accountant, on charges of extortion was adjourned today for the 24th time by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman for lack of a trial judge. The court scheduled Oct. 8 at the new trial date.

The two were indicted by a federal grand jury in April, 1951, on charges of that they extorted $3,000 from two Cairo, N. Y., merchants. After pleading innocent each was released on $2,500 bond.

Zelnick, 31, resides at 129 Downs street, Kingston, and Miller, 43, lives at 335 Main street, Catskill.

If convicted each would face a maximum penalty of six years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

U. S. Might Test Its H-Bomb At Remote Eniwetok Atoll

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—A test of the world's first hydrogen "hell" bomb may be made during the next two months at the United States' remote and carefully guarded nuclear weapons proving ground in mid-Pacific.

A joint atomic energy commission-defense department announcement says a task force will "conduct tests in the autumn months of this year looking toward development of atomic weapons." The announcement left open the question of the specific types of atomic weapons, but earlier official statements had pointed to progress in developing the hydrogen bomb, which may be a thousand times more powerful than the A-bomb.

There were indications of unusually tight secrecy around the forth-coming experiments at Eniwetok, in the Marshall Island group.

The announcement specified that "only official observers of the United States government and members of the task force" would be present. This suggested that quasi-official observers, such as civilian defense experts who have witnessed other nuclear weapons tests, might not be invited to see whatever is being tried out this fall. It definitely leaves out of the picture foreign observers and the press.

At least some preliminary steps toward producing a full-scale hydrogen explosion already have been taken. More than a year ago—in the spring of 1951—scientists conducted experiments which apparently included studies of the method of detonating a hydrogen bomb. Following those Eniwetok tests, officials admitted cautiously that "we have gained new information and understanding of the basic phenomena underlying thermonuclear reactions." (Thermonuclear refers to the fusion, or melting together process, as distinguished from the fission, or splitting apart that occurs in the now-conventional atomic bomb.)

November Balloting Is to Find McCarthy Opposing Verona Man

By DON WHITEHEAD

Milwaukee, Sept. 10 (AP)—Jubilant Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was the landslide winner today of Wisconsin's GOP senatorial nomination. He called his victory an endorsement by the people of "my campaign to rid the government of subversive forces that would destroy it."

He promised his all-out support" to Republican presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower and pledged to the voters he would continue his Communists-in-government charges which some people regard as the act of patriot and others see as smear tactics.

But there was no truce between McCarthy and Len Schmitt—the man he defeated in yesterday's primary election for the senatorial nomination.

Schmitt Charges Hoax

Schmitt charged McCarthy had won through "an amazing and fraudulent hoax" perpetrated on the voters. And he added:

"The result of this election is an appalling thing. * * * when the full truth dawns, many people will recall their support of Joseph R. McCarthy in this election with shame."

The 42-year-old senator seeking his second term brushed this attack aside by saying:

"The people of Wisconsin have spoken for me. They have given full endorsement to my campaign to rid the government of subversive forces that would destroy it."

With 2,898 precincts of 3,224 reporting, the count was

McCarthy 450,079
Schmitt 181,702

McCarthy's opponent in November will be Thomas A. Fairchild of Verona, whose nomination on the Democratic ticket was conceded today by Henry Reuss of Milwaukee.

Bitter Statement

Only a third of the precincts had been reported last night when Schmitt threw in the towel with this bitter statement:

"The result of this election is an appalling thing. The effect upon me personally is utterly unimportant * * * What is important is that a man with the most corrupt record ever made by a Wisconsin senator is overwhelmingly endorsed by Wisconsin voters.

"The most amazing and fraudulent hoax ever practiced by a high public figure upon the voters of any state is approved by the people of a state which once insisted upon the highest standards of integrity, honesty and decency in public life. * * * When the full truth dawns on many people they will recall their support of Joseph R. McCarthy in this election with shame."

McCarthy's victory indicated that perhaps he had some support from switch-voting Democrats who crossed party lines. But this was only speculation and there was no way to check it.

Ike Gave No Help

Eisenhower gave McCarthy no help in his fight for the GOP nomination.

Other Wisconsin primary contests saw all incumbent congressmen—eight Republicans and one Democrat — apparently winning renomination.

The total vote is expected to be about 1,000,000 which would make it the largest primary in history. In previous years, primaries drew between 500,000 and 650,000 with the general elections drawing in excess of 1,000,000.

Wisconsin has gone Republican by margins of four to six to one in other primaries but then had a Democratic presidential candidate carry the state in the general election. It has not, however, had a Democratic United States senator since 1939.

Separation Given To Eleanor Holm; Rose Ends Defense

McNally Grants Decree in Supreme Court —Basis Allowed Is Cruelty

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Eleanor Holm was granted a separation today from her little showman husband, Billy Rose, after Rose halted his divorce suit and withdrew defenses to her separation action.

State Supreme Court Justice James B. M. McNally granted the decree, ringing down the curtain on the Roses' courtroom drama less than three hours after it began.

The separation decree was granted on grounds of both abandonment and cruelty. The latter ground was added with permission of the court on the basis that Rose's divorce action against his wife and his failure to prove charges of adultery was "inhuman and cruel treatment."

Alimony Hearing Oct. 15

Rose's attorney, Arthur Garfield Hays, reserved the right to contest the amount of alimony to be set by Judge McNally. A hearing to determine alimony will be held Oct. 15.

Miss Holm's attorney, Louis Nizer, accepted what he termed Rose's "surrender and confession" to his 38-year-old former swimming star wife.

Hays said the producer moved to withdraw the divorce action and all charges connected with it. Under New York law, adultery is the only basis for divorce. Rose had charged his wife with misconduct with five men.

Hays said the case had "provided a Roman holiday" in the newspapers, which had described it as "the war of the Roses." The historical war by that name lasted 30 years and caused great suffering, he said.

'Mud Bath' Expected

The public expected "that these parties would put each other through a mud bath," Hays said. He added that Rose had "no desire for anything of the kind and that "neither he nor I have the stomach or heart to engage in a mud-slinging contest with Eleanor."

In accepting Rose's announcement, Nizer said, however, that he did not accept the "excuse given"—that the withdrawal was brought about so that Mrs. Rose would not be hurt by the testimony.

Rose stared intenly at his wife as he took a seat in the small courtroom. She looked away from him.

After a brief conference at the bench, Justice McNally went into his chambers with Louis Nizer and Walter Beck, counsel for the 38-year-old Miss Holm.

Seated Opposite Wife

Rose and his counsel remained seated opposite his wife and her other attorneys at the counsel table in front of the bench.

Miss Holm was joined at the table by Mrs. Effie Milford, a long-time friend who said she'd spent the night with Miss Holm and would "stay by her" during the trial.

Miss Holm entered the courthouse by a rear door. Rose strode in by the front entrance between flanks of photographers and reporters. He gave a tight-lipped smile and said "no comment" to reporters' questions about an out-of-court settlement.

Miss Holmn wore a black crepe dress, slit low in the back, a black hat, black pumps and white gloves. At her neck was a St. Christopher medal which she has worn since she was a 13-year-old swimmer.

Shortly after 9:30 a. m. Nizer and Beck emerged from the judge's chambers. A moment later they went back in with Arthur Garfield Hays, chief counsel to Rose.

Half Million Listen to Eisenhower

Goes to Capital

General Will Have Talk With National GOP Committee Staff

Indianapolis, Sept. 10 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower wound up a midwest campaign tour today with promises of hearty support in so-called Taft territory.

Police estimated that at least a half million Hoosiers turned out to welcome the Republican presidential nominee yesterday and last night in Indianapolis.

That was his last stop before flying to Washington today for a brief chat with the GOP National Committee staff. He will continue on by plane to New York this afternoon.

Indiana, like Ohio, gave its support to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the presidential nomination at the Republican National Convention at Chicago last July.

But in both states, Eisenhower won pledges of all-out support from party leaders, and an endorsement from Taft. And in Indianapolis, the heavy public outpouring gave the general hope of grass roots strength.

Will Meet General

Taft, who was in Washington during Eisenhower's midwest trip, is slated to meet the general soon to determine how much of a part he will play in the campaign.

Police estimated that 350,000 persons welcomed Eisenhower as he drove into Indianapolis in the afternoon.

As the general drove from his hotel to the Butler University Field House for an address last night, crowds were lined in the darkness on both sides of the street along almost every foot of the five-mile route.

Police estimated this outpouring at 125,000.

The field house was packed to the rafters with about 15,000 persons and another 10,000 or 12,000 were seated in a football stadium nearby to listen to the speech over an amplifying system.

Gibes at Stevenson

In the speech, broadcast nationwide, Eisenhower delivered another of his increasingly frequent gibes at his Democratic opponent for the presidency, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Hitting the Democratic administration of President Truman as one that "fumbles and stumbles and falls flat on its face every couple of weeks," Eisenhower said:

"Why, my distinguished opponent is using every trick in the book to get himself off the hook of the present administration's record."

"When the hand-picked heir wants no part of the heirlooms, why should we?"

The allied wartime field commander was interrupted 45 times by applause.

Hits Bare-Faced Looters

Eisenhower said he went into politics because "no American can stand one side while his country becomes the prey of fear-Mongers, quack doctors and bare-faced looters."

In his quest for midwest support, Eisenhower:

In Cleveland complimented Ohioans on their loyalty to Sen. Taft and expressed hope of meeting him soon.

In Indianapolis, flatly endorsed the reelection bid of Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, who bitterly criticized Eisenhower's wartime

Declares U. S. Must Assist Asia to Prevent Red Domination

San Francisco, Sept. 10 (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson stood solidly today on the foreign policy of the Truman administration and, with a warning of peril, outlined a program for action in Asia.

"America is threatened as never before," he said.

The way to avert it, he told a nationwide television and radio audience from San Francisco, is to give material aid to the new nations of Asia, to recognize their desire for independence, and to show them that the United States is not pursuing a policy of domination.

Speaking with unusual seriousness, the Democratic candidate for the presidency made these points last night:

1. . . "I do not think war is an inevitable part of this contest between freedom and tyranny."

2. . . "With 85 per cent of our budget allocated to defense, it is the Soviet Union which now fixed the level of our defense expenditures and thus our tax rates."

Hits 10-Point Program

3. . . Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower's "10-point program * * * does not contribute much to our foreign policy discussion."

4. . . "I believe we may in time look back at Korea as a major turning point in history—turning point which led not to another war, but to the first historic demonstration that an effective system of collective security is possible."

5. . . "I want to assure our friends in Asia that America will never seek to dominate their po-

GOP Shows Strength in Eastern Polls as Masses Turn Out to Cast Votes

Salt Lake City, Sept. 10 (AP)—Sen. Arthur V. Watkins built up a commanding lead early today over Marriner S. Eccles for the Republican nomination for the Senate in returns from Utah's primary election.

A heavy turnout Tuesday indicated wide interest in races for the nomination for the Senate, two congressional seats and governor.

Rep. Walter K. Granger took an insurmountable lead over former Gov. Herbert B. Maw for the Democratic nomination for the senate.

Zelnick-Miller Case Adjourned 24th Time

New York, Sept. 10 (AP) — Trial of former Tax Agent Ernest Zelnick and Harold Miller, an accountant, on charges of extortion was adjourned today for the 24th time by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman for lack of a trial judge. The court scheduled Oct. 8 at the new trial date.

The two were indicted by a federal grand jury in April, 1951, on charges of that they extorted $3,000 from two Cairo, N. Y., merchants. After pleading innocent each was released on $2,500 bond.

Zelnick, 31, resides at 129 Downs street, Kingston, and Miller, 43, lives at 335 Main street, Catskill.

If convicted each would face a maximum penalty of six years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

U. S. Might Test Its H-Bomb At Remote Eniwetok Atoll

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—A test of the world's first hydrogen "hell" bomb may be made during the next two months at the United States' remote and carefully guarded nuclear weapons proving ground in mid-Pacific.

A joint atomic energy commission-defense department announcement says a task force will "conduct tests in the autumn months of this year looking toward development of atomic weapons." The announcement left open the question of the specific types of atomic weapons, but earlier official statements had pointed to progress in developing the hydrogen bomb, which may be a thousand times more powerful than the A-bomb.

There were indications of unusually tight secrecy around the forth-coming experiments at Eniwetok, in the Marshall Island group.

The announcement specified that "only official observers of the United States government and members of the task force" would be present. This suggested that quasi-official observers, such as civilian defense experts who have witnessed other nuclear weapons tests, might not be invited to see whatever is being tried out this fall. It definitely leaves out of the picture foreign observers and the press.

At least some preliminary steps toward producing a full-scale hydrogen explosion already have been taken. More than a year ago—in the spring of 1951—scientists conducted experiments which apparently included studies of the method of detonating a hydrogen bomb. Following those Eniwetok tests, officials admitted cautiously that "we have gained new information and understanding of the basic phenomena underlying thermonuclear reactions." (Thermonuclear refers to the fusion, or melting together process, as distinguished from the fission, or splitting apart that occurs in the now-conventional atomic bomb.)

November Balloting Is to Find McCarthy Opposing Verona Man

By DON WHITEHEAD

Milwaukee, Sept. 10 (AP)—Jubilant Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was the landslide winner today of Wisconsin's GOP senatorial nomination. He called his victory an endorsement by the people of "my campaign to rid the government of subversive forces that would destroy it."

He promised his all-out support to Republican presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower and pledged to the voters he would continue his Communists-in-government charges which some people regard as the act of patriot and others see as smear tactics.

But there was no truce between McCarthy and Len Schmitt—the man he defeated in yesterday's primary election for the senatorial nomination.

Schmitt Charges Hoax

Schmitt charged McCarthy had won through "an amazing and fraudulent hoax" perpetrated on the voters. And he added:

"The result of this election is an appalling thing. * * * when the full truth dawns, many people will recall their support of Joseph R. McCarthy in this election with shame."

The 42-year-old senator seeking his second term brushed this attack aside by saying:

"The people of Wisconsin have spoken for me. They have given full endorsement to my campaign to rid the government of subversive forces that would destroy it."

With 2,898 precincts of 3,224 reporting, the count was

McCarthy 450,079
Schmitt 181,702

McCarthy's opponent in November will be Thomas A. Fairchild of Verona, whose nomination on the Democratic ticket was conceded today by Henry Reuss of Milwaukee.

Bitter Statement

Only a third of the precincts had been reported last night when Schmitt threw in the towel with this bitter statement:

"The result of this election is an appalling thing. The effect upon me personally is utterly unimportant * * * What is important is that a man with the most corrupt record ever made by a Wisconsin senator is overwhelmingly endorsed by Wisconsin voters.

"The most amazing and fraudulent hoax ever practiced by a high public figure upon the voters of any state is approved by the people of a state which once insisted upon the highest standards of integrity, honesty and decency in public life. * * * When the full truth dawns on many people they will recall their support of Joseph R. McCarthy in this election with shame."

McCarthy's victory indicated that perhaps he had some support from switch-voting Democrats who crossed party lines. But this was only speculation and there was no way to check it.

Ike Gave No Help

Eisenhower gave McCarthy no help in his fight for the GOP nomination.

Other Wisconsin primary contests saw all incumbent congressmen—eight Republicans and one Democrat — apparently winning renomination.

The total vote is expected to be about 1,000,000 which would make it the largest primary in history. In previous years, primaries drew between 500,000 and 650,000 with the general elections drawing in excess of 1,000,000.

Wisconsin has gone Republican by margins of four to six to one in other primaries but then had a Democratic presidential candidate carry the state in the general election. It has not, however, had a Democratic United States senator since 1939.

THE CORRUPTION ISSUE

One of the big intangibles of this election year is how important the issue of "corruption in government" will be to the average American voter.

No one can really measure accurately its probable impact on the presidential race. It might prove decisive, or it might turn out insignificant.

The voter will have many other things on his mind—inflation and the general state of his pocketbook, his future economic security, the outlook for peace or war. No opinion-taker or anyone else can be sure which one, or which combination, will be governing when the voter goes into the polling booth.

Certainly responsible Americans are not going to condone corruption. But it is conceivable that millions of voters may decide that inflation or peace is a matter of greater moment, and may choose the man they believe will do most on that score.

But if, by chance, corruption is an issue that bulks very large in the public mind today, there is one point the ordinary citizen ought to realize about it. An outsider is more likely to do a thorough cleanup job than an insider, or someone related in any fashion to an insider.

This assumes, naturally, that the outsider does the job his detachment allows him. If he falls down on it, his peculiar advantage is quickly lost.

It is much more difficult for the insider or his political relative to sweep clean. Take the case of the latter, since that is what we have this time in Governor Stevenson. Concede to him the best and most honorable intentions toward eradicating corruption in Washington. He still will operate under some very real and very human handicaps.

Undoubtedly he would attack with vigor the worst offenders, no matter where the chips fell. He might even go fairly far afield in unearthing the roots of the wrongdoing.

But if the evils proved really widespread—perhaps much more general than is now apparent or imagined—how far could he reasonably be expected to go? He might find that he was striking at the very foundation of his party, putting in jeopardy the reputations of men who helped elect him, or were friends of those who did.

The natural instincts of political self-preservation are strong, and they would work against exhaustive prosecution of evil in such an event.

TALES BY TELEPHONE

For a long time people have expected miracles, fairy tale results from modern science. Most exciting was invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell, who would be astounded at today's varied uses of his most famous creation.

The time of day was the first regular service offered by wire. Next came the weather report. But it remained for the refined continental Viennese to turn out the ultimate in telephone luxury. Beginning September first, any subscriber in the Vienna system can dial and be connected with a tape recorder reading of fairy stories from Hans Christian Andersen or the Brothers Grimm. The bedtime fables will be changed daily and the variety of stories is endless.

Viennese are used to depending on the telephone. Bus and train schedules, skiing conditions, recipes are at hand for them daily. Now even the small people get their extra service. What will be next? Lessons in languages or literature?

In America we get many of these things from radio or television. But the telephone has many more possibilities than have ever been tapped.

Not to be outdone by the League of Nations, the United Nations or any other international organizations, the Reds are reported building a permanent home in Panmunjom to house UN-North Korean truce proceedings. We might ask the new truce talk home-owners who is going to deliver the milk of human kindness to their door?

Tree climbers are getting $80 a week and up, according to Karl Amalia, chairman at the National Shade Tree Conference Convention in Boston. This must be one profession where a man can work his way up fast and branch out into a higher income bracket.

The fellow always standing in his own sunshine must sooner or later explain the shadow.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE UNENDING WAR

The following amazing paragraph appeared in the "New York Times Book Review" section. It was written by Anthony Leviero and deals with Ralph de Toledano's book, "Spies, Dupes and Diplomats":

"The dead horse of our pre-Korean China policy gets another whipping in 'Spies, Dupes and Diplomats.' Congressional committees have belabored the carcass again and again and now the writers of books are continuing the process."

How can anyone describe a war that continues endlessly as a "dead horse?" What does he say about the 120,000 casualties in that war and of the dead who gave their lives on order and for no cause? How explain the truce that has been under discussion for 14 months for no apparent reason while our sons continue to be killed? How does he justify the pinning down of our armed forces in a remote peninsula, which strengthened the trend toward neutralism in Europe and Asia?

What kind of a "dead horse" is this one? There is no "deadness" in an issue that each of the candidates will be forced to discuss in the circumstance of his Presidential campaign, because our people continue to want to know how we got into this thing; why it was hooked into the United Nations; why, with the United States doing most of the fighting and provisioning, our policy is subordinated to more than a dozen countries, many of which have contributed neither a man nor a dime to its victorious outcome.

Again, the same book reviewer writes:

"The reformed Communists have been used from time to time in many quarters to run down practically all our Far Eastern experts of the last two decades. At least some of these men were guilty of nothing more than bad judgment. To say this is not to defend these officials but to defend American institutions. . . ."

If men are guilty of bad judgment, are they to be retained in positions in which they can formulate and implement policies that continue the burden of high taxes, keep our country in a state of permanent war, interrupt the education of our children, and bring to some of them death on a foreign battlefield?

Are men to be promoted to higher positions because their judgment has been bad? Dean Acheson became Secretary of State for having bad judgment. What then is to be done to the man of good judgment?

This new irresponsibility has been extolled by Thomas E. Dewey in his recent effort at journalistic writing in the form of a travel book about Asia. It seems to be almost a class conscious defense, officials in power seeking to remain in power in spite of errors of judgment which cost human life and national wealth. "The New York Times" stipulated that Mr. Leviero was an Army Intelligence officer in World War II, "operating against Nazis, Fascists and Communists." This may or may not provide a basis for knowledge of the vast Russian intrigue in Asia, commencing about 1920 and continuing to this day. A measure of that effort was the union of the Kuomintang and the Communists, under Sun Yat-sen, in Canton in 1924, as a result of which the then existing Chinese Government in Peking was ultimately dislodged by Russian-dominated Chinese armies and agitators.

It was during this revolution that Chiang Kai-shek emerged as a military leader and by 1927, after he split with the Russians, as head of state. Michael Borodin and General Bluecher-Galens were the principals of the Russian "advisors." After Chiang Kai-shek expelled Borodin, Bluecher and others, the Communists organized the Pan Pacific Trade Union, at the head of the Secretariat of which were such American Communists as Earl Browder, and Eugene Dennis who, in China, went by the name of Walsh.

I knew Agnes Smedley in China almost from the day she arrived in Shanghai. I knew her as a Communist. She was closely affiliated with and related to Chinese, Hindu and Japanese Communists.

When General Charles Willoughby reported that Agnes Smedley was a Russian spy, he was repudiated by our government which, in effect, apologized to Agnes Smedley. Then she died in an English nursing home, leaving her estate, such as it was, to General Chu Teh, the military leader of the Chinese Communists.

It is because of the misunderstanding of the China situation and bad judgments that Americans are now being killed in Korea.

That Body of Yours

AIR SWALLOWING, AEROPHAGIA

I have written before of the hockey player, a great defense man, who before each game had such a severe pain in his stomach that he felt unable to start the game. By use of baking soda and having him expel gas from lower bowel, he was able to play the entire game. This gas pressure in stomach and intestine was caused by spells of nervousness during which he swallowed air. Swallowing too much air is called aerophagia.

In the question and answer department of Postgraduate Medicine, a typical case of aerophagia is described and a request made for best method of treating this embarrassing condition. The answer is as follows:

"Individuals who have aerophagia frequently complain of passing excessive flatus (gas or wind), the condition caused by air swallowing. Aerophagia most frequently occurs in those patients who eat rapidly, smoke, chew gum or tobacco or have the nervous habit of gulping.

"Among the foods that produce an excessive amount of gas in the bowel are beans and cabbage, which the patient might refrain from eating if he wished."

The first thought in the treatment of aerophagia or air swallowing is to remember that it is due to nervousness, as shown by the patient's need for gum or tobacco, or eating rapidly. One of the first things these air swallowers must learn if they are to be free of air pressure in stomach and bowel is not to gulp air into stomach. If they can remember their nervous tendency and try to remain calm despite exciting or emotional disturbances and breathe deeply and naturally, they will swallow little or no air. Swallowing air is harmless but can cause discomfort and distress.

Some years ago I quoted Dr. G. Hayne of Minnesota Medicine: "80 per cent of patients complaining of distress in stomach and intestine have symptoms of abnormal fullness, gas, and belching. Swallowing air is normal or natural whenever food, drink and saliva (digestive juice of the mouth) are being swallowed. When more than the natural or normal amount is swallowed, it is caused by nervousness, emotional disturbances and tension." In addition to the fullness and belching, there may be dizziness, dull headache, numbness, tingling and heartburn.

"Boy---Teacher'd Love That!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — General Eisenhower is quietly shaking up his cabinet of political advisers.

The chief shake affects Arthur Summerfield of Michigan, who has been virtually eased out of the top command and now has almost nothing to say about campaign strategy, though he continues to bear the imposing title of GOP National Chairman.

Another who has fallen by the wayside is Ike's pioneer champion, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. This is partly because Lodge is busy back home, and GOP leaders are wondering whether Lodge can win his own fight for re-election.

Ike's top adviser now is Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, the man who, along with Lodge, blazed the trail for Eisenhower's first primary victory—that in New Hampshire.

Others in the charmed circle around the general are Ralph Cake, former GOP national committeeman from Oregon, Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska, Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, Robert Burroughs, former national committeeman from New Hampshire, and Ed Birmingham of Wyoming, wealthy rancher and former partner in the Dillon, Read Banking firm.

This is the first team:

The slapdown of GOP Chairman Summerfield stemmed from several reasons, one being his ineffectiveness in lining up Old Guard elements in the midwest, still bitter over Taft's defeat. Summerfield, a former Taft supporter, was counted on to convert Taftites into Ikeites but only partly succeeded.

Opposed Southern Trip

Summerfield's yen for personal power and grandeur also hasn't endeared him to Eisenhower. An example was his backstage effort to grab the Citizens-for-Eisenhower clubs away from Walter Williams and Mrs. Mary Lord and put them under the control of the Republican National Committee. Williams and Mrs. Lord raised a vigorous yowl and Eisenhower backed them up.

Summerfield has made other enemies, notably Paul Hoffman, head of the Ford Foundation and former ECA boss in Europe. Privately, Hoffman makes no secret of his disregard for Summerfield, partly because of the latter's Old Guard isolationist background.

However, Summerfield's biggest mistake and the thing that led directly to his downfall was his opposition to Eisenhower's invasion of the South. Meeting with Ike in Denver, the Michigan leader argued vigorously against it.

He contended that the proposed southern tour would amount to a "lot of hoopla and a waste of time," with no electoral votes forthcoming. Furthermore, Ike might antagonize liberal supporters in the north.

Eisenhower shot back that he was running for president of the whole country, not just the north, and that he was going to make the trip even if it didn't win him a single electoral vote.

Adlai and Abe

When Democratic National Committeeman John Anson Ford of California met Gov. Adlai Stevenson at the Democratic conference in Denver last week, both men recalled a previous meeting in Springfield.

Ford had led the do-or-die battle for Kefauver in Chicago, and, going to Springfield after the convention, he asked the governor about a story that, following his nomination, he had paid a visit to Lincoln's home, where he sat in the chair of the great Republican president.

"Was that story true or was it something a newspaper reporter made up?" Ford asked.

"Yes, it's true," said the governor, "though I don't know how the press learned about it. I sat in Lincoln's chair, turned out the light, and meditated for about an hour.

"When a man is confronted with an overwhelming responsibility, he gains comfort in realizing that someone else faced a similar overwhelming responsibility and in realizing that Lincoln relied on some power other than his own to help him bear it."

Dems at Denver

It wasn't announced publicly, but the most important decision at the Denver meeting between Stevenson and Democratic chiefs from 11 western states was regarding Estes Kefauver, the man Stevenson defeated at Chicago and who has tremendous public support throughout the nation.

Stevenson promised not only to champion the liberal principles of the Tennessee senator, but to do all in his power to enact them into law if elected.

National Chairman Stephen Mitchell also emphasized: "Stevenson will be in accord with the things Kefauver stands for."

Stevenson and Mitchell the state chiefs that Kefauver had agreed to make at least one speech for the ticket in the big electoral state of California, and in other states where needed.

The warm-up to Kefauver followed some blunt advice by California's national chairman, John Anson Ford, who told Stevenson: "If California voters get the idea that the things Kefauver has been fighting for are being pushed aside, it might jeopardize the success of our campaign in California."

Ford also cautioned party leaders against "overconfidence."

"Everyone at this meeting seems to be bursting with optimism," Ford told Mitchell and Wilson Wyatt of Kentucky. "That is fine, but let's not overdo it. Let's not be too confident too early in the campaign. If we lie back with the attitude that this election is in the bag, we may wind up holding the bag."

Stevenson asked many questions about the progress of congressional campaigns in western states, beamed when Sen. Warren Magnunson of Washington, manager of Senate contests in the west, predicted that Stevenson would have a Democratic-controlled Senate.

Magnunson reported that the Democrats had an excellent chance of defeating four Republican senators: Cain of Washington, Ecton of Montana, Watkins of Utah and Malone of Nevada. He added that Democratic senators running for re-election in Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming were "safe," though Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming has a tough fight.

Recent Talks Hint at Repudiation by Truman, Stevenson of HST Policy Point

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Has President Truman decided to repudiate one of the essential points of his own foreign policy in order to appease Russia? And has Governor Stevenson fallen in with that same policy of repudiation?

Judging by recent speeches of the President and the Democratic nominee, the administration has decided to give in to the Russian viewpoint and retreat from the position taken by Republicans and Democrats in Congress who voted overwhelmingly for the "liberation" program aimed at helping freedom-loving citizens behind the Iron Curtain.

Not a word was said by General Eisenhower in his American Legion speech about the use of armed force to carry out the "liberation" program he outlined, but the administration comment quickly accused the general of this. The accusations were telegraphed around the world and were the subject of speculation in the foreign press.

Whatever value the "liberation" program voted by Congress may have had, its full moral effect now has been weakened by the tactics of the President and Governor Stevenson, who, in order to gain a campaign advantage, read into General Eisenhower's speech something he never said or even implied.

It begins to look as if the President doesn't want to go ahead with the "liberation" program at all, just because General Eisenhower has espoused it. The language used by the general in his American Legion speech is nowhere near as vehement as that actually contained in the present law signed on October 10, 1951, by President Truman after an almost unanimous vote by Congress. That law, known as "The Mutual Security Act of 1951," says:

". . . There are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the President for the fiscal year 1952 . . . not to exceed $100,000,000 of such appropriation for any selected persons who are residing in or escapees from the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, or the Communist dominated or Communist occupied areas of Germany and Austria, and any other countries absorbed by the Soviet Union either to form such persons into elements of the military forces supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization or for other purposes, when it is similarly determined by the President that such assistance will contribute to the defense of the North Atlantic area and to the security of the United States."

This provision of law, sponsored by Rep. Charles J. Kersten, Republican, of Wisconsin, and concurred in at the time by the Department of State, represents a basic approach to the problem of "liberation." It is so far-reaching and potent in its possibilities of breaking down Communist imperialism from within that the Soviet government protested immediately in a note on November 21, 1951, that the $100,000,000 appropriated "are destined to finance subversive activities of persons and armed groups which is directed against the Soviet Union and other governments mentioned in the law." The Soviets said the law, moreover, "represents a rude interference of the United States in internal affairs of other countries." The note went on to declare that, when the Soviet Union was recognized in 1933 by the United States, there were reciprocal obligations undertaken then not to interfere in each other's internal affairs.

The American government, in its reply on December 19, 1951, rejected all these allegations and added:

"Assistance of this nature is in keeping with the traditional United States policy of helping victims of oppression, in this instance those eastern Europeans who have escaped or may escape to the free world. . . .

"The United States government states in conclusion that false charges of interference in Soviet internal affairs come with singular ill-grace from a regime which has for many years consistently supported subversive activities directed against the United States and other nations of the free world."

But now that General Eisenhower has said the same thing, President Truman assails him and Governor Stevenson echoes the criticism, an ill-informed British press misunderstands the issue, and the Soviet Union jubilantly takes the Truman view as a vindication of its earlier protest.

Either the President and Governor Stevenson are both playing cheap politics with international policies just to get votes—which seems incredible—or else the United States government, following its tactics of advancing and then retreating, is now prepared to scuttle the Kersten Amendment and to deprive freedom-loving citizens behind the Iron Curtain of the hope that was kindled for them by the Congress of the United States.

It is another "Washington mess" precipitated by President Truman and Governor Stevenson, setting back the cause of peace by an exhibition of supersensitiveness for the feelings of the Communist imperialists who are killing American boys in Korea every day.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

How strange it is that the beloved little man of the people, the common man personified, Harry S. Truman, goes in such terrible fear of the people, surrounded by armed guards from the Secret Service, whose initials "S.S." are darkly reminiscent of Adolf Hitler's evil corps of personal guards, and often by tight cordons of uniformed city policemen with big revolvers and sagging ammunition belts. This new attitude of Presidents began to be manifested in the second term of Woodrow Wilson, a Democrat but a haughty fellow with contempt for the personality of man.

Taft was a jovial fat man who carried the normal convoy of Secret Service men but plainly was friendly to the people and was conscious of affection flowing from them to him. He was the first President I ever saw. They released all the school children in Chicago that day and they and a great mass of adults lined Michigan avenue as he rode up from the I. C. station, smiling and waving without the slightest fear of us.

Wilson went into his royal phase on his triumphant tour of Eastern France and Belgium and his magnificent progress to London to be the guest of the king and queen after the war. He and his wife were no less royal than their hosts in the splendor of their presence and she of course evoked harsh comments on her airs and manners from the common herd both in England and back home.

Indro Montanelli, a journalist of the Corriere Della Sera of Milan, pinked this situation with a phrase in his fine description of Eleanor Roosevelt's pompous humility at the reception arranged for her by the Pandit Nehru, a faker of the same stripe as his guest.

"I kept my eyes open," Montanelli wrote, "to see how one acts when presented to the king and queen of democracy."

In Chicago, on the night of Adlai Stevenson's nomination, the concluding episode of a debauch which deeply hurt the pride of America, President Truman's "security measures" were terribly brutal. The people were herded off at gunpoint as though a wild revolution were imminent.

Some of them probably were his friends but for the most part they were just fans in a section of the country where even the aristocracy, such as it be, would regard Danny Kaye as a social lion. Truman was a "celebrity" and a few thousand loitered in Balbo street where the main entrance of the Blackstone is, to catch a glimpse of a little man hurrying from the marquee to his car, surrounded by his "living wall." Balbo street from Michigan avenue to Wabash was blocked off at the ends by uniformed Chicago cops, a rugged tye with big service pistols exposed and reserve ammunition in their belts. In the Blackstone lobby there were more cops and more men of the American President's S.S. and the atmosphere was tense as though a mere sneer at Truman as he rushed from the elevator to the door would bring an avalanche of brawn and metal down on the offender. There were, by my own incomplete count, 35 more policemen in reserve under a lieutenant in the basement of the Hilton Hotel across the street. Who was afraid? Why was he afraid? Was he afraid of the people?

I saw Mussolini and Hitler both on public appearances and their precautions were no more ominous, though slightly different in detail. They were afraid of the

Certainly responsible Americans are not going to condone corruption. But it is conceivable that millions of voters may decide that inflation or peace is a matter of greater moment, and may choose the man they believe will do most on that score.

But if, by chance, corruption is an issue that bulks very large in the public mind today, there is one point the ordinary citizen ought to realize about it. An outsider is more likely to do a thorough cleanup job than an insider, or someone related in any fashion to an insider.

This assumes, naturally, that the outsider does the job his detachment allows him. If he falls down on it, his peculiar advantage is quickly lost.

It is much more difficult for the insider or his political relative to sweep clean. Take the case of the latter, since that is what we have this time in Governor Stevenson. Concede to him the best and most honorable intentions toward eradicating corruption in Washington. He still will operate under some very real and very human handicaps.

Undoubtedly he would attack with vigor the worst offenders, no matter where the chips fell. He might even go fairly far afield in unearthing the roots of the wrongdoing.

But if the evils proved really widespread—perhaps much more general than is now apparent or imagined—how far could he reasonably be expected to go? He might find that he was striking at the very foundation of his party, putting in jeopardy the reputations of men who helped elect him, or were friends of those who did.

The natural instincts of political self-preservation are strong, and they would work against exhaustive prosecution of evil in such an event.

TALES BY TELEPHONE

For a long time people have expected miracles, fairy tale results from modern science. Most exciting was invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell, who would be astounded at today's varied uses of his most famous creation.

The time of day was the first regular service offered by wire. Next came the weather report. But it remained for the refined continental Viennese to turn out the ultimate in telephone luxury. Beginning September first, any subscriber in the Vienna system can dial and be connected with a tape recorder reading of fairy stories from Hans Christian Andersen or the Brothers Grimm. The bedtime fables will be changed daily and the variety of stories is endless.

Viennese are used to depending on the telephone. Bus and train schedules, skiing conditions, recipes are at hand for them daily. Now even the small people get their extra service. What will be next? Lessons in languages or literature?

In America we get many of these things from radio or television. But the telephone has many more possibilities than have ever been tapped.

Not to be outdone by the League of Nations, the United Nations or any other international organizations, the Reds are reported building a permanent home in Panmunjom to house UN-North Korean truce proceedings. We might ask the new truce talk home-owners who is going to deliver the milk of human kindness to their door?

Tree climbers are getting $80 a week and up, according to Karl Amalia, chairman at the National Shade Tree Conference Convention in Boston. This must be one profession where a man can work his way up fast and branch out into a higher income bracket.

The fellow always standing in his own sunshine must sooner or later explain the shadow.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE UNENDING WAR

The following amazing paragraph appeared in the "New York Times Book Review" section. It was written by Anthony Leviero and deals with Ralph de Toledano's book, "Spies, Dupes and Diplomats":

"The dead horse of our pre-Korean China policy gets another whipping in 'Spies, Dupes and Diplomats.' Congressional committees have belabored the carcass again and again and now the writers of books are continuing the process."

How can anyone describe a war that continues endlessly as a "dead horse?" What does he say about the 120,000 casualties in that war and of the dead who gave their lives on order and for no cause? How explain the truce that has been under discussion for 14 months for no apparent reason while our sons continue to be killed? How does he justify the pinning down of our armed forces in a remote peninsula, which strengthened the trend toward neutralism in Europe and Asia?

What kind of a "dead horse" is this one? There is no "deadness" in an issue that each of the candidates will be forced to discuss in the circumstance of his Presidential campaign, because our people continue to want to know how we got into this thing; why it was hooked into the United Nations; why, with the United States doing most of the fighting and provisioning, our policy is subordinated to more than a dozen countries, many of which have contributed neither a man nor a dime to its victorious outcome.

Again, the same book reviewer writes:

"The reformed Communists have been used from time to time in many quarters to run down practically all our Far Eastern experts of the last two decades. At least some of these men were guilty of nothing more than bad judgment. To say this is not to defend these officials but to defend American institutions. . . ."

If men are guilty of bad judgment, are they to be retained in positions in which they can formulate and implement policies that continue the burden of high taxes, keep our country in a state of permanent war, interrupt the education of our children, and bring to some of them death on a foreign battlefield?

Are men to be promoted to higher positions because their judgment has been bad? Dean Acheson became Secretary of State for having bad judgment. What then is to be done to the man of good judgment?

This new irresponsibility has been extolled by Thomas E. Dewey in his recent effort at journalistic writing in the form of a travel book about Asia. It seems to be almost a class conscious defense, officials in power seeking to remain in power in spite of errors of judgment which cost human life and national wealth. "The New York Times" stipulated that Mr. Leviero was an Army Intelligence officer in World War II, "operating against Nazis, Fascists and Communists." This may or may not provide a basis for knowledge of the vast Russian intrigue in Asia, commencing about 1920 and continuing to this day. A measure of that effort was the union of the Kuomintang and the Communists, under Sun Yat-sen, in Canton in 1924, as a result of which the then existing Chinese Government in Peking was ultimately dislodged by Russian-dominated Chinese armies and agitators.

It was during this revolution that Chiang Kai-shek emerged as a military leader and by 1927, after he split with the Russians, as head of state. Michael Borodin and General Bluecher-Galens were the principals of the Russian "advisors." After Chiang Kai-shek expelled Borodin, Bluecher and others, the Communists organized the Pan Pacific Trade Union, at the head of the Secretariat of which were such American Communists as Earl Browder, and Eugene Dennis who, in China, went by the name of Walsh.

I knew Agnes Smedley in China almost from the day she arrived in Shanghai. I knew her as a Communist. She was closely affiliated with and related to Chinese, Hindu and Japanese Communists.

When General Charles Willoughby reported that Agnes Smedley was a Russian spy, he was repudiated by our government which, in effect, apologized to Agnes Smedley. Then she died in an English nursing home, leaving her estate, such as it was, to General Chu Teh, the military leader of the Chinese Communists.

It is because of the misunderstanding of the China situation and bad judgments that Americans are now being killed in Korea.

AIR SWALLOWING, AEROPHAGIA

I have written before of the hockey player, a great defense man, who before each game had such a severe pain in his stomach that he felt unable to start the game. By use of baking soda and having him expel gas from lower bowel, he was able to play the entire game. This gas pressure in stomach and intestine was caused by spells of nervousness during which he swallowed air. Swallowing too much air is called aerophagia.

In the question and answer department of Post-graduate Medicine, a typical case of aerophagia is described and a request made for best method of treating this embarrassing condition. The answer is as follows:

"Individuals who have aerophagia frequently complain of passing excessive flatus (gas or wind), the condition caused by air swallowing. Aerophagia most frequently occurs in those patients who eat rapidly, smoke, chew gum or tobacco or have the nervous habit of gulping.

"Among the foods that produce an excessive amount of gas in the bowel are beans and cabbage, which the patient might refrain from eating if he wished."

The first thought in the treatment of aerophagia or air swallowing is to remember that it is due to nervousness, as shown by the patient's need for gum or tobacco, or eating rapidly. One of the first things these air swallowers must learn if they are to be free of air pressure in stomach and bowel is not to gulp air into stomach. If they can remember their nervous tendency and try to remain calm despite exciting or emotional disturbances and breathe deeply and naturally, they will swallow little or no air. Swallowing air is harmless but can cause discomfort and distress.

Some years ago I quoted Dr. G. Hayne of Minnesota Medicine: "80 per cent of patients complaining of distress in stomach and intestine have symptoms of abnormal fullness, gas, and belching. Swallowing air is normal or natural whenever food, drink and saliva (digestive juice of the mouth) are being swallowed. When more than the natural or normal amount is swallowed, it is caused by nervousness, emotional disturbances and tension." In addition to the fullness and belching, there may be dizziness, dull headache, numbness, tingling and heartburn.

"Boy---Teacher'd Love That!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — General Eisenhower is quietly shaking up his cabinet of political advisers.

The chief shake affects Arthur Summerfield of Michigan, who has been virtually eased out of the top command and now has almost nothing to say about campaign strategy, though he continues to bear the imposing title of GOP National Chairman.

Another who has fallen by the wayside is Ike's pioneer champion, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. This is partly because Lodge is busy back home, and GOP leaders are wondering whether Lodge can win his own fight for re-election.

Ike's top adviser now is Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, the man who, along with Lodge, blazed the trail for Eisenhower's first primary victory—that in New Hampshire.

Others in the charmed circle around the general are Ralph Cake, former GOP national committeeman from Oregon, Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska, Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, Robert Burroughs, former national committeeman from New Hampshire, and Ed Birmingham of Wyoming, wealthy rancher and former partner in the Dillon, Read Banking firm.

This is the first team:

The slapdown of GOP Chairman Summerfield stemmed from several reasons, one being his ineffectiveness in lining up Old Guard elements in the midwest, still bitter over Taft's defeat. Summerfield, a former Taft supporter, was counted on to convert Taftites into Ikeites but only partly succeeded.

Opposed Southern Trip

Summerfield's yen for personal power and grandeur also hasn't endeared him to Eisenhower. An example was his backstage effort to grab the Citizens-for-Eisenhower clubs away from Walter Williams and Mrs. Mary Lord and put them under the control of the Republican National Committee. Williams and Mrs. Lord raised a vigorous yowl and Eisenhower backed them up.

Summerfield has made other enemies, notably Paul Hoffman, head of the Ford Foundation and former ECA boss in Europe. Privately, Hoffman makes no secret of his disregard for Summerfield, partly because of the latter's Old Guard isolationist background.

However, Summerfield's biggest mistake and the thing that led directly to his downfall was his opposition to Eisenhower's invasion of the South. Meeting with Ike in Denver, the Michigan leader argued vigorously against it.

He contended that the proposed southern tour would amount to a "lot of hoopla and a waste of time," with no electoral votes forthcoming. Furthermore, Ike might antagonize liberal supporters in the north.

Eisenhower shot back that he was running for president of the whole country, not just the north, and that he was going to make the trip even if it didn't win him a single electoral vote.

Adlai and Abe

When Democratic National Committeeman John Anson Ford of California met Gov. Adlai Stevenson at the Democratic conference in Denver last week, both men recalled a previous meeting in Springfield.

Ford had led the do-or-die battle for Kefauver in Chicago, and, going to Springfield after the convention, he asked the governor about a story that, following his nomination, he had paid a visit to Lincoln's home, where he sat in the chair of the great Republican president.

"Was that story true or was it something a newspaper reporter made up?" Ford asked.

"Yes, it's true," said the governor, "though I don't know how the press learned about it. I sat in Lincoln's chair, turned out the light, and meditated for about an hour.

"When a man is confronted with an overwhelming responsibility, he gains comfort in realizing that someone else faced a similar overwhelming responsibility and in realizing that Lincoln relied on some power other than his own to help him bear it."

Dems at Denver

It wasn't announced publicly, but the most important decision at the Denver meeting between Stevenson and Democratic chiefs from 11 western states was regarding Estes Kefauver, the man Stevenson defeated at Chicago and who has tremendous public support throughout the nation.

Stevenson promised not only to champion the liberal principles of the Tennessee senator, but to do all in his power to enact them into law if elected.

National Chairman Stephen Mitchell also emphasized: "Stevenson will be in accord with the things Kefauver stands for."

Stevenson and Mitchell the state chiefs that Kefauver had agreed to make at least one speech for the ticket in the big electoral state of California, and in other states where needed.

The warm-up to Kefauver followed some blunt advice by California's national chairman, John Anson Ford, who told Stevenson: "If California voters get the idea that the things Kefauver has been fighting for are being pushed aside, it might jeopardize the success of our campaign in California."

Ford also cautioned party leaders against "overconfidence."

"Everyone at this meeting seems to be bursting with optimism," Ford told Mitchell and Wilson Wyatt of Kentucky. "That is fine, but let's not overdo it. Let's not be too confident too early in the campaign. If we lie back with the attitude that this election is in the bag, we may wind up holding the bag."

Stevenson asked many questions about the progress of congressional campaigns in western states, beamed when Sen. Warren Magnunson of Washington, manager of Senate contests in the west, predicted that Stevenson would have a Democratic-controlled Senate.

Magnunson reported that the Democrats had an excellent chance of defeating four Republican senators: Cain of Washington, Ecton of Montana, Watkins of Utah and Malone of Nevada. He added that Democratic senators running for re-election in Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming were "safe," though Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming has a tough fight.

Recent Talks Hint at Repudiation by Truman, Stevenson of HST Policy Point

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Has President Truman decided to repudiate one of the essential points of his own foreign policy in order to appease Russia? And has Governor Stevenson fallen in with that same policy of repudiation?

Judging by recent speeches of the President and the Democratic nominee, the administration has decided to give in to the Russian viewpoint and retreat from the position taken by Republicans and Democrats in Congress who voted overwhelmingly for the "liberation" program aimed at helping freedom-loving citizens behind the Iron Curtain.

Not a word was said by General Eisenhower in his American Legion speech about the use of armed force to carry out the "liberation" program he outlined, but the administration comment quickly accused the general of this. The accusations were telegraphed around the world and were the subject of speculation in the foreign press.

Whatever value the "liberation" program voted by Congress may have had, its full moral effect now has been weakened by the tactics of the President and Governor Stevenson, who, in order to gain a campaign advantage, read into General Eisenhower's speech something he never said or even implied.

It begins to look as if the President doesn't want to go ahead with the "liberation" program at all, just because General Eisenhower has espoused it. The language used by the general in his American Legion speech is nowhere near as vehement as that actually contained in the present law signed on October 10, 1951, by President Truman after an almost unanimous vote by Congress. That law, known as "The Mutual Security Act of 1951," says:

". . . There are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the President for the fiscal year 1952 . . . not to exceed $100,000,000 of such appropriation for any selected persons who are residing in or escapees from the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania, Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, or the Communist dominated or Communist occupied areas of Germany and Austria, and any other countries absorbed by the Soviet Union either to form such persons into elements of the military forces supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization or for other purposes, when it is similarly determined by the President that such assistance will contribute to the defense of the North Atlantic area and to the security of the United States."

This provision of law, sponsored by Rep. Charles J. Kersten, Republican, of Wisconsin, and concurred in at the time by the Department of State, represents a basic approach to the problem of "liberation." It is so far-reaching and potent in its possibilities of breaking down Communist imperialism from within that the Soviet government protested immediately in a note on November 21, 1951, that the $100,000,000 appropriated "are destined to finance subversive activities of persons and armed groups which is directed against the Soviet Union and other governments mentioned in the law." The Soviets said the law, moreover, "represents a rude interference of the United States in internal affairs of other countries." The note went on to declare that, when the Soviet Union was recognized in 1933 by the United States, there were reciprocal obligations undertaken then not to interfere in each other's internal affairs.

The American government, in its reply on December 19, 1951, rejected all these allegations and added:

"Assistance of this nature is in keeping with the traditional United States policy of helping victims of oppression, in this instance those eastern Europeans who have escaped or may escape to the free world. . . .

"The United States government states in conclusion that false charges of interference in Soviet internal affairs come with singular ill-grace from a regime which has for many years consistently supported subversive activities directed against the United States and other nations of the free world."

But now that General Eisenhower has said the same thing, President Truman assails him and Governor Stevenson echoes the criticism, an ill-informed British press misunderstands the issue, and the Soviet Union jubilantly takes the Truman view as a vindication of its earlier protest.

Either the President and Governor Stevenson are both playing cheap politics with international policies just to get votes—which seems incredible—or else the United States government, following its tactics of advancing and then retreating, is, now prepared to scuttle the Kersten Amendment and to deprive freedom-loving citizens behind the Iron Curtain of the hope that was kindled for them by the Congress of the United States.

It is another "Washington mess" precipitated by President Truman and Governor Stevenson, setting back the cause of peace by an exhibition of supersensitiveness for the feelings of the Communist imperialists who are killing American boys in Korea every day.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

How strange it is that the beloved little man of the people, the common man personified, Harry S. Truman, goes in such terrible fear of the people, surrounded by armed guards from the Secret Service, whose initials "S.S." are darkly reminiscent of Adolf Hitler's evil corps of personal guards, and often by tight cordons of uniformed city policemen with big revolvers and sagging ammunition belts. This new attitude of Presidents began to be manifested in the second term of Woodrow Wilson, a Democrat but a haughty fellow with contempt for the personality of man.

Taft was a jovial fat man who carried the normal convoy of Secret Service men but plainly was friendly to the people and was conscious of affection flowing from them to him. He was the first President I ever saw. They released all the school children in Chicago that day and they and a great mass of adults lined Michigan avenue as he rode up from the I. C. station, smiling and waving without the slightest fear of us.

Wilson went into his royal phase on his triumphant tour of Eastern France and Belgium and his magnificent progress to London to be the guest of the king and queen after the war. He and his wife were no less royal than their hosts in the splendor of their presence and she of course evoked harsh comments on her airs and manners from the common herd both in England and back home.

Indro Montanelli, a journalist of the Corriere Della Sera of Milan, pinked this situation with a phrase in his fine description of Eleanor Roosevelt's pompous humility at the reception arranged for her by the Pandit Nehru, a faker of the same stripe as his guest.

"I kept my eyes open," Montanelli wrote, "to see how one acts when presented to the king and queen of democracy."

In Chicago, on the night of Adlai Stevenson's nomination, the concluding episode of a debauch which deeply hurt the pride of America, President Truman's "security measures" were terribly brutal. The people were herded off at gunpoint as though a wild revolution were imminent.

Some of them probably were his friends but for the most part they were just fans in a section of the country where even the aristocracy, such as it be, would regard Danny Kaye as a social lion. Truman was a "celebrity" and a few thousand loitered in Balbo street where the main entrance of the Blackstone is, to catch a glimpse of a little man hurrying from the marquee to his car, surrounded by his "living wall." Balbo street from Michigan avenue to Wabash was blocked off at the ends by uniformed Chicago cops, a rugged tye with big service pistols exposed and reserve ammunition in their belts. In the Blackstone lobby there were more cops and more men of the American President's S.S. and the atmosphere was tense as though a mere sneer at Truman as he rushed from the elevator to the door would bring an avalanche of brawn and metal down on the offender. There were, by my own incomplete count, 35 more policemen in reserve under a lieutenant in the basement of the Hilton Hotel across the street. Who was afraid? Why was he afraid? Was he afraid of the people?

I saw Mussolini and Hitler both on public appearances and their precautions were no more ominous, though slightly different in detail. They were afraid of the

CIO Board Votes To Back Cashmore; One Union for Ives

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—The New York state CIO Executive Board has endorsed the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, John Cashmore. But one CIO Union indicated it may back his Republican opponent.

At least one other CIO union, and possibly two, reportedly may remain neutral in the contest for the seat now held by GOP Sen. Irving M. Ives, who is seeking re-election. A third major candidate is Dr. George S. Counts, Columbia University professor, on the Liberal party ticket.

The State CIO Convention Board met yesterday to decide whether to support Cashmore, Borough president of Brooklyn, or possibly not any candidate at all.

It was called into special session after the State CIO Convention at Buffalo last week failed to agree on the matter. The convention authorized the executive board to make the decision.

A spokesman said representatives of two unions—the Utility Workers and the United Rubber Workers — voted against Cashmore. The spokesman said the American Newspaper Guild represetative abstained from voting. The board has 35 members from various CIO affiliates.

Later a spokesman for the Utility Workers Union, which claims 30,000 members in New York city, said his executive board had decided to recommend that the rank and file support Ives.

Louisiana Studies Aid for Eisenhower

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 10 (AP)—Louisiana's political storm swirled with new intensity today with the disclosure that some Democratic leaders are considering whether to help Republicans swing this state to Dwight Eisenhower.

Several officials said the Democratic State Central Committee is being sounded out on a proposal to make technical changes in the ballot form to make it easier for Democrats to vote for the GOP presidential nominee.

The Democratic leaders asked not to be identified. They gave no hint about how party leaders would receive the proposal.

Republicans were expected to ask today for similar changes on their half of the ballot. N. Bryant James, chairman of the party's Central Committee, said he would ask Secretary of State Wade O. Martin, Jr., for permission to list presidential electors for Eisenhower in one column on the ballot and GOP candidates for congressional and local offices in another.

Would Be Same

The proposed change in the Democratic side of the ballot would be the same, with the party's presidential electors listed in one column and those for Democratic state and local candidates in another.

This would allow Democrats to vote for Eisenhower in the presidential race and for Democratic candidates in state and local races.

Republicans must have Democratic help to hand Eisenhower the state's 10 electoral votes. Of the more than one million registered voters, only 2,000 are Republicans.

Gov. Robert Kennon told a news conference yesterday he would vote for Eisenhower. He wore a campaign button inscribed "J'aime Ike," French for "I Like Ike." Kennon said, however, that he has no plans to campaign for the general.

Several other Democratic leaders have also announced support for Eisenhower.

Los Angeles, Sept. 10 (AP)—Resolution calling for use of atomic bombs in Korea is scheduled to be proposed to delegates at the 29th annual national convention of the Marine Corps League. He predicted almost unanimous endorsement of the resolution later this week.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD S. THIBAUT, Jr.

Copies of Weekly Freeman of '90's Found in Zena

Woodstock, Sept. 10—Recently Montcena DeWitt, one of this village's constables, undertook to repair a tool shed, formerly an old blacksmith's shop, on his farm in Zena.

After ripping out a section of siding, which had rotted away owing to dampness, DeWitt discovered that the building paper between the siding and the wall sheathing was composed of layers of old newspapers. Closer inspection revealed that the papers were copies of the Weekly Freeman and Journal, published in Kingston in 1889, 1892, and 1895. The tattered, stained newspapers had been sewn together to form a firmer inside wall.

According to DeWitt, the former owners of his farm had been Mrs. Alice Thompson, now the librarian of the Woodstock Library, Alfred Van Etten, and previous to that Dan Lynch. DeWitt is not certain during which of these residencies the building had been erected and the papers used as a part of the siding.

One fact is obvious from the content of one of the papers—Woodstock on August 15, 1895, was an active, thriving community. Although there was a Woodstock column, there was no division between the various types of news. Social notes, which reported that "Miss Libbie Miller of Brooklyn, who was the guest of Mrs. Edgar Snyder last summer, is again visiting her," was followed by the announcement of the death of Mrs. Short, at the residence of her son, Calvin Short, August 5.

At a district school meeting Henry Longendyke was elected trustee, and the other trustees were Mr. Pepper and Charles Riseley.

In that year the Rev. C. H. Travis was pastor of the Methodist Church, who delivered the sermon on Sunday, and on Tuesday "the heavy shower in the evening did very much good. The dust has made harvesting unpleasant for the farmers heretofore."

In 1895 straw rides were "very popular among the guests at the various boarding houses and hotels."

Noted in the Shady news was the comment that a "temperance rally held in the Reformed Church at Woodstock on Friday evening was well attended. The Rev. Travis, of the M. E. Church, delivered a very able address taking his pointer from the Lord's Prayer, and speaking very strong against intemperance. At the close of the meeting the pastor of the church, Mr. Baker, spoke, endorsing Rev. Travis' remarks, and urging the congregation to support the prohibition ticket."

On the same day it was reported that "James, the three year old son of S. N. Vosburgh, got into a bees' nest on Wednesday. Before help could get to him he was stung forty-five times, mostly on the face. He is a plucky little fellow and is doing nicely."

Pupils Present Music Recital at Byrdcliffe

Woodstock, Sept. 10—An engaging hour of music was enjoyed last Saturday afternoon at the Richards studio in Byrdcliffe when the pupils of Inez Carroll Richards presented a piano recital. The pieces performed ranged from the delightfully played Chimes, Fairies' Harp, The Playful Kitten, Chord Frolic, Frankness, by Mrs. Richards' youngest pupils, to the brilliant Scarlatti Sonata in D minor and Schumann's Kreisleriana, Opus 16.

Mrs. Richards has not only imbued her pupils with a notable gaiety and verve, but with a sound technique and sense of pharasing, and expression.

The pupils who participated in the recital were Gay Ellen Bare, Edith Heckroth, Robin Cantine, Barbara Cohn, Alwina Geneis and Jane Van Winkle.

Woodstock, Sept. 10—Registration dates in this village for voters will be on Saturday, Oct. 4, and Sat., Oct. 11, at the Town Hall, time to be announced.

Three Are Injured In Motor Mishap

Three Bloomington residents escaped serious injury Monday afternoon when the car in which they were riding and a tractor-trailer sideswiped on route 9-W two miles south of the Highland traffic circle. Injured about the face and body were Laura Longstreet, 72, and her husband, Ernest Longstreet, 70, and Cartilda Engelten, 72, all of Bloomington. They were taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, by ambulance suffering from contusions and lacerations.

The accident happened at 4:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, according to state police, when the Longstreet car attempted to cross the highway from west to east. The tractor-trailer, owned by Terminal Storage and Distribution Company of East Rutherford, N. J., and operated by Theodore F. Steronko, 30, was traveling south at a speed of from 45 to 50 miles an hour, state police report, when the vehicles sideswiped. The truck overturned on the Longstreet Buick car after the collision, badly damaging that car. There was no arrest.

Gertrude Lawrence Rites Are Held

New York, Sept. 10 (AP) — The St. James Theatre reopens today, the name of Gertrude Lawrence missing from its signs.

And as it reopens after a day of mourning, the body of its fallen star—a trouper in the greatest tradition to the painful end—will go to a final resting place.

The St. James, where Miss Lawrence played the leading role in "The King and I," canceled its performance yesterday for her funeral services.

Other theatres along the Great White way—and in London's west end—dimmed their marquees at curtain time in a silent tribute to the English girl who touched theatrical heights on two continents.

Miss Lawrence died Saturday morning of cancer. So well had she played her role that none knew of her final weeks of great pain.

Yesterday she lay in a rose-covered coffin, clad in the gown she wore in her last stage performance. Members of the cast and others, prominent on the stage and screen, came to mourn. Five thousand persons stood outside the Eighth Avenue Presbyterian Church during the service.

Burial will take place today at Upton, Mass., in the private plot of the family of her husband, producer Richard Aldrich.

CIO Board Votes To Back Cashmore; One Union for Ives

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—The New York state CIO Executive Board has endorsed the Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, John Cashmore. But one CIO Union indicated it may back his Republican opponent.

At least one other CIO union, and possibly two, reportedly may remain neutral in the contest for the seat now held by GOP Sen. Irving M. Ives, who is seeking re-election. A third major candidate is Dr. George S. Counts, Columbia University professor, on the Liberal party ticket.

The State CIO Convention Board met yesterday to decide whether to support Cashmore, Borough president of Brooklyn, or possibly not any candidate at all.

It was called into special session after the State CIO Convention at Buffalo last week failed to agree on the matter. The convention authorized the executive board to make the decision.

A spokesman said representatives of two unions—the Utility Workers and the United Rubber Workers — voted against Cashmore. The spokesman said the American Newspaper Guild represetative abstained from voting. The board has 35 members from various CIO affiliates.

Later a spokesman for the Utility Workers Union, which claims 30,000 members in New York city, said his executive board had decided to recommend that the rank and file support Ives.

Louisiana Studies Aid for Eisenhower

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 10 (AP)—Louisiana's political storm swirled with new intensity today with the disclosure that some Democratic leaders are considering whether to help Republicans swing this state to Dwight Eisenhower.

Several officials said the Democratic State Central Committee is being sounded out on a proposal to make technical changes in the ballot form to make it easier for Democrats to vote for the GOP presidential nominee.

The Democratic leaders asked not to be identified. They gave no hint about how party leaders would receive the proposal.

Republicans were expected to ask today for similar changes on their half of the ballot. N. Bryant James, chairman of the party's Central Committee, said he would ask Secretary of State Wade O. Martin, Jr., for permission to list presidential electors for Eisenhower in one column on the ballot and GOP candidates for congressional and local offices in another.

Would Be Same

The proposed change in the Democratic side of the ballot would be the same, with the party's presidential electors listed in one column and those for Democratic state and local candidates in another.

This would allow Democrats to vote for Eisenhower in the presidential race and for Democratic candidates in state and local races.

Republicans must have Democratic help to hand Eisenhower the state's 10 electoral votes. Of the more than one million registered voters, only 2,000 are Republicans.

Gov. Robert Kennon told a news conference yesterday he would vote for Eisenhower. He wore a campaign button inscribed "J'aime Ike," French for "I Like Ike." Kennon said, however, that he has no plans to campaign for the general.

Several other Democratic leaders have also announced support for Eisenhower.

Would Use A-Bombs

Los Angeles, Sept. 10 (AP)—Resolution calling for use of atomic bombs in Korea is scheduled to be proposed to delegates at the 29th annual national convention of the Marine Corps League. Paul Corbin, the league's national chief of staff, said in opening sessions of the convention yesterday that "A-bombs across the Yalu river" offer the only way to end the war in Korea. He predicted almost unanimous endorsement of the resolution later this week.

Crotty Is Named

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Peter J. Crotty, a Buffalo attorney and former president of its City Council, has been named state campaign director of the Democratic ticket, State Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick announced yesterday.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Copies of Weekly Freeman of '90's Found in Zena

Woodstock, Sept. 10—Recently Montcena DeWitt, one of this village's constables, undertook to repair a tool shed, formerly an old blacksmith's shop, on his farm in Zena.

After ripping out a section of siding, which had rotted away owing to dampness, DeWitt discovered that the building paper between the siding and the wall sheathing was composed of layers of old newspapers. Closer inspection revealed that the papers were copies of the Weekly Freeman and Journal, published in Kingston in 1889, 1892, and 1895. The tattered, stained newspapers had been sewn together to form a firmer inside wall.

According to DeWitt, the former owners of his farm had been Mrs. Alice Thompson, now the librarian of the Woodstock Library, Alfred Van Etten, and previous to that Dan Lynch. DeWitt is not certain during which of these residencies the building had been erected and the papers used as a part of the siding.

One fact is obvious from the content of one of the papers—Woodstock on August 15, 1895, was an active, thriving community. Although there was a Woodstock column, there was no division between the various types of news. Social notes, which reported that "Miss Libbie Miller of Brooklyn, who was the guest of Mrs. Edgar Snyder last summer, is again visiting her," was followed by the announcement of the death of Mrs. Short, at the residence of her son, Calvin Short, August 5.

At a district school meeting Henry Longendyke was elected trustee, and the other trustees were Mr. Pepper and Charles Riseley.

In that year the Rev. C. H. Travis was pastor of the Methodist Church, who delivered the sermon on Sunday, and on Tuesday "the heavy shower in the evening did very much good. The dust has made harvesting unpleasant for the farmers heretofore."

In 1895 straw rides were "very popular among the guests at the various boarding houses and hotels."

Noted in the Shady news was the comment that a "temperance rally held in the Reformed Church at Woodstock on Friday evening was well attended. The Rev. Travis, of the M. E. Church, delivered a very able address taking his pointer from the Lord's Prayer, and speaking very strong against intemperance. At the close of the meeting the pastor of the church, Mr. Baker, spoke, endorsing Rev. Travis' remarks, and urging the congregation to support the prohibition ticket."

On the same day it was reported that "James, the three year old son of S. N. Vosburgh, got into a bees' nest on Wednesday. Before help could get to him he was stung forty-five times, mostly on the face. He is a plucky little fellow and is doing nicely."

Pupils Present Music Recital at Byrdcliffe

Woodstock, Sept. 10—An engaging hour of music was enjoyed last Saturday afternoon at the Richards studio in Byrdcliffe when the pupils of Inez Carroll Richards presented a piano recital. The pieces performed ranged from the delightfully played Chimes, Fairies' Harp, The Playful Kitten, Chord Frolic, Frankness, by Mrs. Richards' youngest pupils, to the brilliant Scarlatti Sonata in D minor and Schumann's Kreisleriana, Opus 16.

Mrs. Richards has not only imbued her pupils with a notable gaiety and verve, but with a sound technique and sense of pharasing, and expression.

DeSapio's Ouster Sought by Stand Through Petition

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—A petition for the ouster of Carmine G. De Sapio as leader of Tammany Hall on grounds of incompetence is being circulated among New York county Democratic leaders.

Bert Stand, a member of the County Democratic Executive Committee and former secretary of Tammany, disclosed this yesterday in another round of his feud with De Sapio.

Stand issued a call for action to oust De Sapio last week. De Sapio retaliated yesterday by asserting Stand and others opposing his leadership were motivated by "selfiish" purposes.

Stand said he hoped to obtain the necessary ten and three-fifths votes in the executive committee. He declined to say whether he had yet obtained any signatures from the 35 leaders who hold a total of 23 votes.

Drivers Will Return

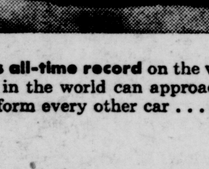

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—A meeting of 600 armored car drivers and guards, who have been on strike 14 weeks against four transport firms, voted to accept a management contract offer yesterday and are ready to go back to work today, a union official said. Members of Local 820 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters "voted unanimously" to accept the management offer of a 17 cents an hour wage increase and other improvements, Emmett Mullin, local president, said.

Stevenson Gets Cake

San Francisco, Sept. 10 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson got an angel food cake with white and pink icing yesterday—from his old grammar school teacher. Mrs. Bessie M. Moore, 70, now of Redding, Calif., who taught him at Washington School at Bloomington, Ill., said: "I don't know why I chose angel food. He certainly was no angel in school. But he was a good student—expressed himself beautifully, just as he does now."

Narcotics Suspect Takes Own Life

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—William McFall, 38, a Negro of (31-60 97th) street, Corona, Queens, alleged seller and user of narcotics, hanged himself shortly after 9 p. m. yesterday in a sixth floor room of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, to which he had been taken for questioning.

James C. Ryan, district supervisor of the federal agency, said two narcotics agents recently bought narcotics from McFall, who was arrested a week ago by police on a narcotics charge.

The agents took McFall to a conference room yesterday and left him there. When they returned several minutes later, McFall was found hanged with his belt from a transom.

Hold-Up Play Is Very Dangerous

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

We hear so much about the hold-up play, but sometimes we overlook the fact that a hold-up can be a fatal mistake. It is almost as important to know when not to hold-up as it is to know when to execute this very important play.

When West opened the seven of diamonds in the hand shown today, South made the mistake of holding up dummy's ace. East won with the queen of diamonds and returned the suit to dummy's ace. Thus West's long suit was established in the first two tricks.

South needed at least two clubs to make his contract, so he immediately tried the club finesse. This had the great merit of getting the agony over quickly. West took the king of clubs and the rest of his diamonds to defeat the contract.

South should have won the first trick with dummy's ace of diamonds, since this was one of the standard positions in which an expert does not hold up. Whether East dropped the queen or the ten of diamonds, the suit would be blocked. Declarer would immediately try the club finesse, and West would win with the king.

If West then cashed the king of diamonds, South's nine would become established for a second stopper. If West led a low diamond after taking the king of clubs, East would win, but would be unable to continue the suit.

West's opening lead of a low diamond indicates that he doesn't hold a suit headed by three honors. (An honor is almost invariably opened from a suit headed by three honors.) Hence West is known to have two or more honors in diamonds. If East has more than two diamonds, the hold-up cannot succeed. If East has only two diamonds, as was actually the case, a hold-up is fatal.

Must Return Child

Boston, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Massachusetts Supreme Court has ordered Mrs. Constance B. Henderson, 23, formerly of Newton, a Hollywood bit player, to return her two-year-old daughter to her estranged husband, Brandon H. Henderson of Pelham, N. Y. The court warned yesterday that if its order is not carried out in 30 days it will dismiss Mrs. Henderson's appeals from a decree granting Henderson custody of the child. The Supreme Court said Mrs. Henderson "committed the crime of kidnaping" when she took the child away from Henderson's mother last October 31 while Henderson was attending Harvard Business School. Mrs. Henderson has refused to disclose the whereabouts of the child.

HUDSON HORNETS SET ALL-TIME STOCK-CAR RECORD!

In 39 stock-car races held so far this year, Hudson came in first 35 times, and both first and second 19 times in these cities:

West Palm Beach, Fla.	San Diego, Calif.
Daytona Beach, Fla.	Occoneechee, N. C.
Jacksonville, Fla.	Charlotte, N. C.

Dayton, Ohio	Asheville, N. C.
Canfield, Ohio	Terre Haute, Ind.

No other car in the world can match this record!

Unbiased tests on the world's toughest proving grounds help you choose your family car!

ALL makes of cars compete in stock-car races. And in these grueling tests of stamina, safety and performance, only results count. That's why, when you look at the stock-car record, you know which car is best.

To date this year, Hudsons have won 35 out of 39 stock-car races—an all-time record!

How does this help you choose your family car? Well, consider this:

- It proves that Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design (with America's lowest center of gravity) gives you road-hugging stability and sureness of handling no other car can match!
- It proves that Hudson's Monobilt body-and-frame* is the safest, most durable automobile construction known!
- It proves that Hudson's high-compression engines deliver tremendous power, that Hudsons have the stamina to take punishment equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving in tests where other cars fail.

All these important qualities are yours in a Hudson . . . for your pleasure, for your pride, for your protection. There's sleek, streamlined beauty, too, and you don't have to look at the record to see that.

Stop in and try a Hudson, or give us a phone call and we'll pick you up at your door. You've got a real thrill in store.

Meet GEORGE ENGASSER, Pastry Chef at the Hotel Biltmore, New York City

WE ASKED A PASTRY CHEF

"Guess how big a slice of your phone bill goes for taxes?"

We asked Mr. Engasser to take his pie knife and show us. He cut out about an eighth of a pie and asked, "This much?"

It was delicious pie, but the wrong answer. The tax slice of your telephone bill is almost one-third—32¢ of every dollar.

What's up for your TELEPHONE COMPANY since 1939

Lead up	250%	Cable up	113%
Poles up	128%	Raw cotton up	334%
Taxes up	165%	Buildings up	106%
Copper up	122%	Steel up	73%

but phone service is up an average of only 15%

In 1951, you and your telephone company paid the tax collectors 202 million dollars—an average of $3.20 a month for every telephone.

Taxes are necessary, and we expect to pay our full share of them. But we did want you to know that we're not vaccinated against the effects of inflation any more than you are.

Your cost of living is up 92% since 1939. Our costs of materials, wages and taxes are up as much or more. Yet the average price of telephone service has risen only 15%. We think these facts speak for themselves — especially since telephone service today is better than ever before.

Plane Sprays 900 Rounds on Madison

Madison, Wis., Sept. 10 (AP)—An estimated 900 rounds of .50 caliber machine gun slugs were sprayed over this capital city Tuesday night by air force F-51 Mustang which crashed in flames at Truax Field.

The pilot walked away from the crash but Ethel Pierce, 40, and William Falkenstein, 15, were wounded by slugs that ripped into their living rooms. They were believed to be in good condition.

Capt. William Brownell, a member of the 163rd Fighter Squadron of the Iowa National Guard, told air force authorities he was flying from Truax to his base at Sioux City, Ia., but headed back when he discovered a leaky fuel line.

As his Mustang dipped toward the runway, it suddenly burst into flames, then crashed. Air force authorities said later that intense heat from burning gasoline may have shorted the cocking mechanism on two guns, loosing the deadly bullets.

Father Breaks Down Telling How His Daughter Was Slain

Carmel, Sept. 10 (AP)—A heartsick father sobbed on the witness stand today as he told how his little daughter pleaded, "'Daddy, don't let him hurt me,'" before an escaped convict plunged a knife into her stomach.

Twice, the father, Marvin D. Arnold, broke down and cried as he described the slaying of nine-year-old Betty June Marvin to a Putman County Court jury.

Court was recessed to allow him to regain his control.

On trial on a charge of murder is convict Donald Snyder, 26, accused of taking the little girl hostage and killing her last June 11 in his attempt to avoid capture. A car thief, he had escaped from nearby Greenville state prison. He seized the girl as she alighted from a school bus and threatened to stab her as police closed in.

Tells of Convict's Threat

Arnold said that when he arrived at his home, near Mahopac, on the day of the slaying, Snyder was holding Betty June in the garage.

"He shouted, 'don't come any closer or she'll get it,'" Arnold testified. "He was holding a knife in his right hand pointed at Betty June, and eating a sandwich with his left hand."

Arnold said his wife said: "'Please get him out of here. He wants transportation to New York'."

Trying to reason with Snyder, Arnold said he offered him the car to drive himself, but Snyder refused, saying, "'I won't go unless they (Mrs. Arnold and the little girl) go too—they're my out'."

Child Begs for Safety

The child begged, "Daddy, don't let him hurt me," Arnold related.

He said when he and Alexander Williams, a bus driver and part-time policeman, moved toward the garage, Snyder commanded, "Stand back there, or I'll let her have it. Don't come any closer."

Snyder allegedly stabbed the girl to death as Williams shot him, wounding him. A widespread police hunt had been on for Snyder, who escaped the day before.

To Hold Conference

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—President Truman will hold a news conference at 9:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Late Bulletin

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told cheering Republican campaign workers today that "one thing underlies all the enthusiasm that I have encountered — the desire for a change."

The general flew in to Washington for a brief visit and addressed the staffs of the various national GOP campaign organizations at their hotel headquarters.

He spoke of the big crowds which have greeted him and said that everywhere there appeared to be a demand for new faces in Washington.

Eisenhower's Washington visit was scheduled only as a two-hour stop-off between his mid-western tour and New York city where he has his personal campaign headquarters.

Joining his party here was Sen. Frank Carlson (R.-Kan.) who has been one of Eisenhower's top advisers.

Carlson told reporters he expected to talk with Eisenhower during the afternoon about a meeting with Sen. Robert A. Taft. This may result in setting a time and place for an Eisenhower-Taft conference.

Ike Scores . . .

chief and comrade, Gen. George C. Marshall.

Jenner a year ago termed Marshall "a living lie" and a "front man for traitors" as a result of China's turning Communist after Marshall served as an emissary there. Eisenhower since described Marshall as a "perfect example of patriotism."

Jenner also has criticized, and Eisenhower has upheld, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the United Nations, and American entry into the Korean war.

In backing Jenner despite their differences, Eisenhower told his Butler University and radio audience that political victory depended upon a "united party."

"Victory comes from the efforts of many men and women, not always seeing eye to eye on every question but always in the matter of party responsibility—joined as a team," Eisenhower said.

"In this campaign," Eisenhower continued, "I am requesting voters to support the entire Republican ticket from top to bottom at every stop in every state I visit."

litical and economic development."

This was Stevenson's most important effort on foreign policy. It was a peak point as well in the whole campaign he is waging through the west.

Nearly 1,900 people—seated on two floors of Veteran's Memorial Auditorium — heard the address. The basement audience watched him via a projection on a screen.

His speech was the vehicle for three major issues in the fight for the presidency. It was a defense of the administration's foreign policy. It contained a stinging attack on the Republicans. And it presented the governor's analysis of the Asian situation, plus his ideas for meeting the danger he said confronts this country.

He made no promises of an early peace, either in Korea or in the cold war against communism.

public school system as a result of the Red inquiry. Most refused to answer questions.

Dr. Bella V. Dodd, expelled Communist National Executive Committee member, testified yesterday for a second day before the group. She gave additional information on her break with the party and its alleged infiltration into the teaching profession.

"Most of the motives by which (teachers) joined were good motives," she said. "I hope they get a chance to untangle themselves without publicity or reprisals."

Dr. Dodd is an attorney and a former Hunter College instructor.

Subcommittee officials declined yesterday to say why the 10 teachers had been subpoenaed to testify this afternoon. However, it was learned at the board of education that all 10 had been under investigation in its program to get rid of Communists.

Among those subpoenaed — according to identification by the subcommittee and board of education officials—were:

Louis Relin, of 41-19 41st street, Long Island City, Queens, a teacher at Abraham Lincoln High School in Brooklyn.

Louis Cohen, of 3835 Bailey avenue, the Bronx, a teacher at William Howard Taft High School in the Bronx.

Helen Mins Robbins, of Manhattan, a teacher at Morris High School in the Bronx.

Mary Daniman, of 1820 Morris avenue, the Bronx, a teacher at P.S. 107 in the Bronx.

License Revoked

Ivan Irkliewskig, 19, of 54 Jefferson street, Poughkeepsie, was fined $25 and his driver's license was revoked when he pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Francis Palen of Port Ewen to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. Arrested after a minor accident Sunday morning on Route 9W near West Park, Irkliewskig was arraigned on Monday night.

Primary Election Results Are Given

Lake City held a slim lead over Secretary of State Heber Bennion, Jr. for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Republican Gov. J. Bracken Lee appeared assured of re-nomination.

Utah's first congresswoman, Rep. Reva Beck Bosone, was given an eight to one lead over Charles Pedersen for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the second district.

For the Republican nomination in the second district, former Rep. William Dawson led Don Mack Dalton.

In the First Congressional District, Ernest McKay led Mayor George T. Frost of Ogden for the Democratic nomination.

For the Republican nomination from the first district, Douglas Stringfellow led George Staples.

Langlie to Face Mitchell

Seattle, Sept. 10 (AP)—Washington's Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, an easy winner in his bid for renomination, appeared likely today to face Democratic U. S. Rep. Hugh B. Mitchell in the November election.

Mitchell led in the Democratic vote count of yesterday's primary election.

The state's only other Democrat in the U. S. House of Representatives, Henry M. Jackson, also will be running in other fields. He will oppose the incumbent Republican U. S. Senator, Harry P. Cain who easily won his party's nomination.

The United States amateur golf champion, Jack Westland, was ahead in the Republican race for nominee to succeed Jackson in the second congressional district. Leading a field of four Democrats was Harry Henson, state chairman of the party.

Don Magnuson, Seattle newsman and never before a candidate for any public office, ran far ahead of a field of seven Democrats for the congressman-at-large nomination.

His opponent on the Republican ticket was not decided, with a stretch race being run by Mrs. Janet Tourtelotte of Seattle and Albert Canwell of Spokane.

Stimson Bullitt was well ahead in the bid for the Democratic nomination to succeed Mitchell in the first congressional district. It appeared he would face Tom Pelly, Seattle businessman, who had a substantial majority in a three-man Republican field.

In other congressional races, the incumbent Republicans were unopposed for nomination.

Wins in New Hampshire

Concord, N. H., Sept. 10 (AP)—A 34-year-old war veteran, making his first bid for statewide office, today was the Republican nominee for governor after a sweeping victory in the New Hampshire primary.

Hugh Gregg, youthful lawyer-industrialist and former mayor of Nashua, easily defeated three opponents yesterday.

Gov. Sherman Adams, completing his second term, was not a candidate for re-election. He is on leave of absence to aid in directing General Eisenhower's campaign for the presidency.

Gregg's Democratic opponent in November will be Attorney William H. Craig of Manchester.

However, Craig is conceded little chance for the governorship since the Republican nomination in New Hampshire generally is tantamount to election.

The Granite State's two Republican congressmen, Chester E. Merrow and Morris Cotton, were renominated.

Is Renominated

Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 10 (AP)—Gov. Lee E. Emerson was renominated by Vermont Republicans in yesterday's primary and is assured of reelection in November unless tradition is upset. No Democrat ever has carried the state.

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders and U. S. Rep. Winston L. Prouty, both Republicans, were renominated.

Truman Friend Wins

Denver, Sept. 10 (AP)—John W. Metzger, an orphan who became state attorney general and a friend of President Truman, won the Democratic nomination for governor of Colorado in yesterday's primary elections.

He will face Gov. Dan Thornton, close political associate of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in November. Thornton was unopposed for Republican renomination.

Rep. William S. Hill won renomination for a seventh term in Congress in the top Republican primary race. All other congressional candidates in both parties were unopposed. No Senate seat was at stake.

Renomination Assured

Minneapolis, Sept. 10 (AP)—Minnesota's top Republican office holders, Sen. Edward J. Thye and Gov. C. Elmer Anderson, appeared assured of renomination on the basis of early returns from Tuesday's primary election.

William Carlson, former state representative was well ahead of two opponents for the Democratic-Farmer-Labor nomination for senator, and Orville Freeman, former DFL state chairman, was leading the contest for that party's nomination for governor.

For other state officers, Republican incumbents were leading in nomination races and DFL convention endorsees were ahead.

The three incumbent congressmen who had primary opponents were leading in their respective contests.

Murdock Wins

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 10 (AP)—Rep. John R. Murdock (D.-Ariz.) rolled toward an overwhelming victory today in his bid for renomination to Congress from Arizona's First District.

Murdock, chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, was well ahead of his nearest competitor in yesterday's primary voting.

He was the only member of the Arizona congressional delegation who faced a contest. Sen. Ernest McFarland (D.-Ariz.), Senate majority leader, and Rep. Harold Patten (D.-Ariz.), from the Second District, were unopposed.

Joe Haldiman, Phoenix insurance executive, continued to add to a slowly mounting in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Gov. Howard Pyle, a Republican was unopposed for renomination.

Harveys Are Freed

night. However, following an autopsy, ordered by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly, he issued a verdict of death due to pneumonia and malnutrition.

The baby had been attended by Dr. Sidney Pauker of Kingston who found it dead when summoned to the home of the parents.

Judge Cashin suspended imposition of any sentence, saying that the couple had been adequately punished by the result of their acts and had learned a lesson therefrom. Bail in the case was exonerated.

All other criminal cases went over until next Monday at 2 p. m.

Plane Sprays 900 Rounds on Madison

Madison, Wis., Sept. 10 (AP)—An estimated 900 rounds of .50 caliber machine gun slugs were sprayed over this capital city Tuesday night by air force F-51 Mustang which crashed in flames at Truax Field.

The pilot walked away from the crash but Ethel Pierce, 40, and William Falkenstein, 15, were wounded by slugs that ripped into their living rooms. They were believed to be in good condition.

Capt. William Brownell, a member of the 163rd Fighter Squadron of the Iowa National Guard, told air force authorities he was flying from Truax to his base at Sioux City, Ia., but headed back when he discovered a leaky fuel line.

As his Mustang dipped toward the runway, it suddenly burst into flames, then crashed. Air force authorities said later that intense heat from burning gasoline may have shorted the cocking mechanism on two guns, loosing the deadly bullets.

Father Breaks Down Telling How His Daughter Was Slain

Carmel, Sept. 10 (AP)—A heartsick father sobbed on the witness stand today as he told how his little daughter pleaded, "'Daddy, don't let him hurt me,'" before an escaped convict plunged a knife into her stomach.

Twice, the father, Marvin D. Arnold, broke down and cried as he described the slaying of nine-year-old Betty June Marvin to a Putman County Court jury.

Court was recessed to allow him to regain his control.

On trial on a charge of murder is convict Donald Snyder, 26, accused of taking the little girl hostage and killing her last June 11 in his attempt to avoid capture. A car thief, he had escaped from nearby Greenville state prison. He seized the girl as she alighted from a school bus and threatened to stab her as police closed in.

Tells of Convict's Threat

Arnold said that when he arrived at his home, near Mahopac, on the day of the slaying, Snyder was holding Betty June in the garage.

"He shouted, 'don't come any closer or she'll get it,'" Arnold testified. "He was holding a knife in his right hand pointed at Betty June, and eating a sandwich with his left hand."

Arnold said his wife said: "'Please get him out of here. He wants transportation to New York'."

Trying to reason with Snyder, Arnold said he offered him the car to drive himself, but Snyder refused, saying, "'I won't go unless they (Mrs. Arnold and the little girl) go too—they're my out'."

Child Begs for Safety

The child begged, "Daddy, don't let him hurt me," Arnold related.

He said when he and Alexander Williams, a bus driver and part-time policeman, moved toward the garage, Snyder commanded, "Stand back there, or I'll let her have it. Don't come any closer."

Snyder allegedly stabbed the girl to death as Williams shot him, wounding him. A widespread police hunt had been on for Snyder, who escaped the day before.

To Hold Conference

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—President Truman will hold a news conference at 9:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Late Bulletin

Washington, Sept. 10 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told cheering Republican campaign workers today that "one thing underlies all the enthusiasm that I have encountered — the desire for a change."

The general flew in to Washington for a brief visit and addressed the staffs of the various national GOP campaign organizations at their hotel headquarters.

He spoke of the big crowds which have greeted him and said that everywhere there appeared to be a demand for new faces in Washington.

Eisenhower's Washington visit was scheduled only as a two-hour stop-off between his mid-western tour and New York city where he has his personal campaign headquarters.

Joining his party here was Sen. Frank Carlson (R.-Kan.) who has been one of Eisenhower's top advisers.

Carlson told reporters he expected to talk with Eisenhower during the afternoon about a meeting with Sen. Robert A. Taft. This may result in setting a time and place for an Eisenhower-Taft conference.

chief and comrade, Gen. George C. Marshall.

Jenner a year ago termed Marshall "a living lie" and a "front man for traitors" as a result of China's turning Communist after Marshall served as an emissary there. Eisenhower since described Marshall as a "perfect example of patriotism."

Jenner also has criticized, and Eisenhower has upheld, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the United Nations, and American entry into the Korean war.

In backing Jenner despite their differences, Eisenhower told his Butler University and radio audience that political victory depended upon a "united party."

"Victory comes from the efforts of many men and women, not always seeing eye to eye on every question but always in the matter of party responsibility—joined as a team," Eisenhower said.

"In this campaign," Eisenhower continued, "I am requesting voters to support the entire Republican ticket from top to bottom at every stop in every state I visit."

litical and economic development."

This was Stevenson's most important effort on foreign policy. It was a peak point as well in the whole campaign he is waging through the west.

Nearly 1,900 people—seated on two floors of Veteran's Memorial Auditorium — heard the address. The basement audience watched him via a projection on a screen.

His speech was the vehicle for three major issues in the fight for the presidency. It was a defense of the administration's foreign policy. It contained a stinging attack on the Republicans. And it presented the governor's analysis of the Asian situation, plus his ideas for meeting the danger he said confronts this country.

He made no promises of an early peace, either in Korea or in the cold war against communism.

public school system as a result of the Red inquiry. Most refused to answer questions.

Dr. Bella V. Dodd, expelled Communist National Executive Committee member, testified yesterday for a second day before the group. She gave additional information on her break with the party and its alleged infiltration into the teaching profession.

"Most of the motives by which (teachers) joined were good motives," she said. "I hope they get a chance to untangle themselves without publicity or reprisals."

Dr. Dodd is an attorney and a former Hunter College instructor.

Subcommittee officials declined yesterday to say why the 10 teachers had been subpoenaed to testify this afternoon. However, it was learned at the board of education that all 10 had been under investigation in its program to get rid of Communists.

Among those subpoenaed — according to identification by the subcommittee and board of education officials—were:

Louis Relin, of 41-19 41st street, Long Island City, Queens, a teacher at Abraham Lincoln High School in Brooklyn.

Louis Cohen, of 3835 Bailey avenue, the Bronx, a teacher at William Howard Taft High School in the Bronx.

Helen Mins Robbins, of Manhattan, a teacher at Morris High School in the Bronx.

Mary Daniman, of 1820 Morris avenue, the Bronx, a teacher at P.S. 107 in the Bronx.

Arrested after a minor accident Sunday morning on Route 9W near West Park, Irkliewskig was arraigned on Monday night.

Primary Election Results Are Given

Lake City held a slim lead over Secretary of State Heber Bennion, Jr. for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Republican Gov. J. Bracken Lee appeared assured of re-nomination.

Utah's first congresswoman, Rep. Reva Beck Bosone, was given an eight to one lead over Charles Pedersen for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the second district.

For the Republican nomination in the second district, former Rep. William Dawson led Don Mack Dalton.

In the First Congressional District, Ernest McKay led Mayor George T. Frost of Ogden for the Democratic nomination.

For the Republican nomination from the first district, Douglas Stringfellow led George Staples.

Langlie to Face Mitchell

Seattle, Sept. 10 (AP)—Washington's Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, an easy winner in his bid for renomination, appeared likely today to face Democratic U. S. Rep. Hugh B. Mitchell in the November election.

Mitchell led in the Democratic vote count of yesterday's primary election.

The state's only other Democrat in the U. S. House of Representatives, Henry M. Jackson, also will be running in other fields. He will oppose the incumbent Republican U. S. Senator, Harry P. Cain who easily won his party's nomination.

The United States amateur golf champion, Jack Westland, was ahead in the Republican race for nominee to succeed Jackson in the second congressional district. Leading a field of four Democrats was Harry Henson, state chairman of the party.

Don Magnuson, Seattle newsman and never before a candidate for any public office, ran far ahead of a field of seven Democrats for the congressman-at-large nomination.

His opponent on the Republican ticket was not decided, with a stretch race being run by Mrs. Janet Tourtelotte of Seattle and Albert Canwell of Spokane.

Stimson Bullitt was well ahead in the bid for the Democratic nomination to succeed Mitchell in the first congressional district. It appeared he would face Tom Pelly, Seattle businessman, who had a substantial majority in a three-man Republican field.

In other congressional races, the incumbent Republicans were unopposed for nomination.

Wins in New Hampshire

Concord, N. H., Sept. 10 (AP)—A 34-year-old war veteran, making his first bid for statewide office, today was the Republican nominee for governor after a sweeping victory in the New Hampshire primary.

Hugh Gregg, youthful lawyer-industrialist and former mayor of Nashua, easily defeated three opponents yesterday.

Gov. Sherman Adams, completing his second term, was not a candidate for re-election. He is on leave of absence to aid in directing General Eisenhower's campaign for the presidency.

Gregg's Democratic opponent in November will be Attorney William H. Craig of Manchester.

However, Craig is conceded little chance for the governorship since the Republican nomination in New Hampshire generally is tantamount to election.

The Granite State's two Republican congressmen, Chester E. Merrow and Morris Cotton, were renominated.

Is Renominated

Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 10 (AP)—Gov. Lee E. Emerson was renominated by Vermont Republicans in yesterday's primary and is assured of reelection in November unless tradition is upset. No Democrat ever has carried the state.

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders and U. S. Rep. Winston L. Prouty, both Republicans, were renominated.

Truman Friend Wins

Denver, Sept. 10 (AP)—John W. Metzger, an orphan who became state attorney general and a friend of President Truman, won the Democratic nomination for governor of Colorado in yesterday's primary elections.

He will face Gov. Dan Thornton, close political associate of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in November. Thornton was unopposed for Republican renomination.

Rep. William S. Hill won renomination for a seventh term in Congress in the top Republican primary race. All other congressional candidates in both parties were unopposed. No Senate seat was at stake.

Renomination Assured

Minneapolis, Sept. 10 (AP)—Minnesota's top Republican office holders, Sen. Edward J. Thye and Gov. C. Elmer Anderson, appeared assured of renomination on the basis of early returns from Tuesday's primary election.

William Carlson, former state representative was well ahead of two opponents for the Democratic-Farmer-Labor nomination for senator, and Orville Freeman, former DFL state chairman, was leading the contest for that party's nomination for governor.

For other state officers, Republican incumbents were leading in nomination races and DFL convention endorsees were ahead.

The three incumbent congressmen who had primary opponents were leading in their respective contests.

Murdock Wins

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 10 (AP)—Rep. John R. Murdock (D.-Ariz.) rolled toward an overwhelming victory today in his bid for renomination to Congress from Arizona's First District.

Murdock, chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, was well ahead of his nearest competitor in yesterday's primary voting.

He was the only member of the Arizona congressional delegation who faced a contest. Sen. Ernest McFarland (D.-Ariz.), Senate majority leader, and Rep. Harold Patten (D.-Ariz.), from the Second District, were unopposed.

Joe Haldiman, Phoenix insurance executive, continued to add to a slowly mounting in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Gov. Howard Pyle, a Republican was unopposed for renomination.

night. However, following an autopsy, ordered by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly, he issued a verdict of death due to pneumonia and malnutrition.

The baby had been attended by Dr. Sidney Pauker of Kingston who found it dead when summoned to the home of the parents.

Judge Cashin suspended imposition of any senfence, saying that the couple had been adequately punished by the result of their acts and had learned a lesson therefrom. Bail in the case was exonerated.

All other criminal cases went over until next Monday at 2 p. m.

Colorful Labels Products Of Precision Looms in Area

Antonio Valle of 323 Broadway, Kingston, is shown "putting quills on trimmings" at one of the 12 looms in the Kingston Woven Label Co., Inc., Port Ewen.

The label in the shirt or dress you are wearing may have been woven by the Kingston Woven Label Co., Inc., Port Ewen, where intricate, electric-powered precision looms weave thousands of threads into colorful bands ranging from five-eighths of an inch to three inches in width.

From a point near the ceiling the threads flow in a fan-shaped stream, feeding from large spools, the "quills" shuttling back and forth weaving in the design. The finished ribbon or band flows continuously from the plant's 12 machines, collecting in bins.

The finished band of labels, some of them intricate and richly worked, are wound in rolls of from 500 to 2,000 labels for shipping. The plant, established 11 years ago by tall, keen-eyed Ernest Stratmann, whose residence adjoins the factory, can also cut the labels and pack them in special cardboard boxes if desired.

Stratmann, who came to this country from Germany in 1926, points out that each of the 12 machines, which are of varying sizes, has from 300 to 1,400 needles and from 5,000 to 14,000 threads. Each machine turns out from 14 to 72 bands of labels at a time.

Some of the machines, Stratmann explains, can turn out as many as 10,000 labels in a 16-hour day. He employs 12 men and operates two eight-hour shifts, the work involving the special skills of warper, quiller, winder, weaver, card-cutter, designer and finisher.

"Born With Scissors"

The design to be woven is punched out in a special "card" and the card attached to the machine. The perforations in the card control, by special mechanical action, the type of pattern to be woven.

Stratmann points out that it only requires about two minutes to change the pattern, approximately ten minutes, perhaps, if color is used. The labels are shipped to all parts of the United States.

Stratmann, who came over from Barmen, Germany, 26 years ago, says that he was "born with scissors in my hand." His father before him, and other relatives and forbears, employed their talents in the textile industry in Barmen, famous for its narrow textile fabrics, such as ribbon. Before coming to Port Ewen he was employed in a similar factory in Paterson, N. J.

Last year he and Mrs. Stratmann adopted an 18-year-old German grandniece, Margaret Stratmann, whose father was killed in World War 2.

Stratmann says that he had five war veterans working for him recently but that one left not long ago. The matter of building a business, he points out, is "hard," but "everything is easy after you know how."

He complains, with a laugh, that some of his customers are too impatient to get their order finished. "They give us an order today and they want it yesterday!"

Four Rounded Up In Payroll Job

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Four men were rounded up late yesterday by detectives in connection with the $2,100 payroll robbery last July 31 of the Superior Pants Company in Norwich, Connecticut.

The men, all taken into custody at their homes on information developed in cooperation with Connecticut police, included a former New York city probationary policeman who had been paroled in December of 1949 after serving 21 years in Trenton State Prison for his part in a $155,000 postal holdup in Elizabeth, N. J., in which a guard was killed.

The four men are Kanice Neary, 57, (636 Seventh avenue) New Hyde Park, N. Y., who had been discharged from the New York city police force after a probation period; Paul McGuinnis, 32, of Manhattan; John Sheehan, 41, of (62-84 Booth street) Rego Park, Queens, and Michael Coulouvoris, 45, of Manhattan.

Police said that Neary, who has a record of several arrests, was involved in the September, 1928, holdup of the mail truck. Several of Neary's accomplices were electrocuted for the killing of the guard.

Neary, McGuinnis and Coulouvoris were booked today as fugitives from Connecticut. Sheehan was booked as a fugitive and also charged as a parole violator.

Measures Approved

Cairo, Egypt, Sept. 5 (AP) — Egypt's day-old cabinet led by strongman Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib today okayed army-backed measures cutting up the nation's big landed estates and reorganizing political parties with the eventual aim of dissolving those now existing. The 51-year-old army commander's new government announced after a nine and a half hour session—longest in Egyptian history—that it had approved legislation limiting ownership of arable land to 200 acres per person.

Colorful Labels Products Of Precision Looms in Area

Antonio Valle of 323 Broadway, Kingston, is shown "putting quills on trimmings" at one of the 12 looms in the Kingston Woven Label Co., Inc., Port Ewen.

The label in the shirt or dress you are wearing may have been woven by the Kingston Woven Label Co., Inc., Port Ewen, where intricate, electric-powered precision looms weave thousands of threads into colorful bands ranging from five-eighths of an inch to three inches in width.

From a point near the ceiling the threads flow in a fan-shaped stream, feeding from large spools, the "quills" shuttling back and forth weaving in the design. The finished ribbon or band flows continuously from the plant's 12 machines, collecting in bins.

The finished band of labels, some of them intricate and richly worked, are wound in rolls of from 500 to 2,000 labels for shipping. The plant, established 11 years ago by tall, keen-eyed Ernest Stratmann, whose residence adjoins the factory, can also cut the labels and pack them in special cardboard boxes if desired.

Stratmann, who came to this country from Germany in 1926, points out that each of the 12 machines, which are of varying sizes, has from 300 to 1,400 needles and from 5,000 to 14,000 threads. Each machine turns out from 14 to 72 bands of labels at a time.

Some of the machines, Stratmann explains, can turn out as many as 10,000 labels in a 16-hour day. He employs 12 men and operates two eight-hour shifts, the work involving the special skills of warper, quiller, winder, weaver, card-cutter, designer and finisher.

"Born With Scissors"

The design to be woven is punched out in a special "card" and the card attached to the macine. The perforations in the card control, by special mechanical action, the type of pattern to be woven.

Stratmann points out that it only requires about two minutes to change the pattern, approximately ten minutes, perhaps, if color is used. The labels are shipped to all parts of the United States.

Stratmann, who came over from Barmen, Germany, 26 years ago, says that he was "born with scissors in my hand." His father before him, and other relatives and forbears, employed their talents in the textile industry in Barmen, famous for its narrow textile fabrics, such as ribbon. Before coming to Port Ewen he was employed in a similar factory in Paterson, N. J.

Last year he and Mrs. Stratmann adopted an 18-year-old German grandniece, Margaret Stratmann, whose father was killed in World War 2.

Stratmann says that he had five war veterans working for him recently but that one left not long ago. The matter of building a business, he points out, is "hard," but "everything is easy after you know how."

He complains, with a laugh, that some of his customers are too impatient to get their order finished. "They give us an order today and they want it yesterday!"

Four Rounded Up In Payroll Job

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Four men were rounded up late yesterday by detectives in connection with the $2,100 payroll robbery last July 31 of the Superior Pants Company in Norwich, Connecticut.

The men, all taken into custody at their homes on information developed in cooperation with Connecticut police, included a former New York city probationary policeman who had been paroled in December of 1949 after serving 21 years in Trenton State Prison for his part in a $155,000 postal holdup in Elizabeth, N. J., in which a guard was killed.

The four men are Kanice Neary, 57, (636 Seventh avenue) New Hyde Park, N. Y., who had been discharged from the New York city police force after a probation period; Paul McGuinnis, 32, of Manhattan; John Sheehan, 41, of (62-84 Booth street) Rego Park, Queens, and Michael Coulouvoris, 45, of Manhattan.

Police said that Neary, who has a record of several arrests, was involved in the September, 1928, holdup of the mail truck. Several of Neary's accomplices were electrocuted for the killing of the guard.

Neary, McGuinnis and Coulouvoris were booked today as fugitives from Connecticut. Sheehan was booked as a fugitive and also charged as a parole violator.

Eddy, senior officer for a quarter million American soldiers in Germany, will be responsible for developing the United States military relationships with the West German ground forces. The United States will furnish supplies for the Germans and some American officers are expected to be assigned to training tasks.

people whom they professed to love, whom they talked down to as Truman talks down to us.

For years, Truman's daughter has been traipsing up and down our land, amassing a fortune by her efforts to sing, usually with the eager cooperation of the local executives of her father's political party who stimulated her ticket sales for obvious reasons. But her body-guards were paid for not out of her gate receipts but out of the taxes of the common man. Her Secret Service detail worked around the clock and once, in Boston, when I was in the same hotel, the tax-paying guests quietly resented the impudence of it all as city and state police augmented the S.S. detail and jammed the quiet passages and the elevator cars. Why was all this display of muscle and small arms? Many of the guests were elderly. On the average they were too dignified even to remark to Miss Truman that they disapproved her conduct. The suggestion that one of them might strike her, much less try to kill her, was grotesque.

In London on great occasions when the royality ride by in an open gold coach the guards are out in their shakos and beautiful dress uniforms, but their muskets are empty for their presence is a display of national valor, implied by the noble records of these regiments, and of mutual confidence between the people and the king and queen riding by exposed to the aim of any sniper.

But Margaret Truman, the plain, homespun, cornfed American girl, took three American armed guards wherever she went in Europe, at great expense to the American people, as her last fling before her father's severance from the payroll and that $50,000, untaxed bonus. These fellows pushed the people around and aroused angry resentment. Their denials can be ignored. Their manners are rude and rough, a development fostered by Roosevelt's royal manner. They are the king's henchmen. Huey Long had a guard of his own drawn from the state police. He openly called them 'my thug-men."

The emperor Roosevelt caused the army to organize in secret a special royal regiment of foot to patrol his estate at Hyde Park during the war. They were all at least six feet tall and were a parade outfit, but the duty was degrading and a bore and dicipline and morale were not good. Three of these guardsmen ridiculed their outfit after the war but the army did all it could to suppress the facts and the press and radio ignored the whole affair. The majority were well pleased. However menial their duty, it was preferable to fighting.

Lightning Strikes Twice

Murray, Utah (AP) — Lightning struck a fuse box at the Ralph F. Smith home and the family was without hot water for several days. A week later, lightning struck a transformer, sizzled down a power line and out the kitchen stove. "Flames shot out about two feet into the room," said Mrs. Smith. This time the Smiths not only were without hot water but power was also cut off from the lights, radio and television set.

CORRECT PLAY IS EVIDENT

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please let us know what the expert would do in this situation," writes a Richmond correspondent. "My husband and I had a big argument about this last night.

"My husband picked up a small discard pile and made an initial meld of three kings and three aces. At his next turn to play, he melded three sevens. This left only four cards in his hand.

"At my next turn I drew from the stock pile and held the following cards:

A J-J-J 9-9 8-7-6-5-4-2

"Is my correct play clearly marked, or do I have a choice?"

Provided that your husband is a good player, your next move is clearly marked. There should be no choice in the matter.

Your correct play is to add the ace and the seven to your partner's melds. You should also put down the three jacks, and you should add your deuce either to the aces or to the sevens.

When your partner melded aces and kings, he could have almost any kind of hand. When he unnecessarily melded three sevens at his next turn, however, he was shrieking that he needed a four-card base, and that he could meld out very quickly if you helped him as requested.

A good player would not put down a new meld of three sevens merely because he happened to find them in his hand. He would put them down only to request immediate action by his partner.

Hence provided that friend husband was a good player, the correct course was to give him as many bases as possible (by adding the ace and the seven) and to bring him as close as possible to a canasta by putting the deuce where it would do the most good.

Q—In the game of Samba what is the bonus for melding four red threes, or five red threes, or six red threes?

A—You get 400 points for four red threes, 500 points for five red threes, and a thousand points for all six red threes. In short, you get 100 points for each red three, together with an extra 400 points if you get all six of them. There is no extra bonus unless you get all six.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Coffins Suggest Slogan

Utica, N. Y. (AP) — Miss Ruth Rollband thinks the traffic death-rate would be slowed down if the city would display wooden coffins in conspicuous places along main highways with this slogan painted on them: "Don't Rush to Get In." She got the idea while on a recent motor trip. Immediately after a carload of coffins came down the road in the opposite direction she noticed the cars in front of her get into orderly positions and promptly cut their speed. In March, 1951, Miss Rollband was the winner of a slogan contest sponsored by the pedestrian safety committee of the Utica Safety Council. Her slogan, "A Careless Step Is a Grave Matter," was painted on the pavement at several downtown intersections.

When your partner melded aces and kings, he could have almost any kind of hand. When he unnecessarily melded three sevens at his next turn, however, he was shrieking that he needed a four-card base, and that he could meld out very quickly if you helped him as requested.

A good player would not put down a new meld of three sevens merely because he happened to find them in his hand. He would put them down only to request immediate action by his partner.

Hence provided that friend husband was a good player, the correct course was to give him as many bases as possible (by adding the ace and the seven) and to bring him as close as possible to a canasta by putting the deuce where it would do the most good.

Q—In the game of Samba what is the bonus for melding four red threes, or five red threes, or six red threes?

A—You get 400 points for four red threes, 500 points for five red threes, and a thousand points for all six red threes. In short, you get 100 points for each red three, together with an extra 400 points if you get all six of them. There is no extra bonus unless you get all six.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Coffins Suggest Slogan

Utica, N. Y. (AP) — Miss Ruth Rollband thinks the traffic death-rate would be slowed down if the city would display wooden coffins in conspicuous places along main highways with this slogan painted on them: "Don't Rush to Get In." She got the idea while on a recent motor trip. Immediately after a carload of coffins came down the road in the opposite direction she noticed the cars in front of her get into orderly positions and promptly cut their speed. In March, 1951, Miss Rollband was the winner of a slogan contest sponsored by the pedestrian safety committee of the Utica Safety Council. Her slogan, "A Careless Step Is a Grave Matter," was painted on the pavement at several downtown intersections.

Papers' Stand Is Praised by Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Gov. Dewey praises American newspapers for "sturdily and successfully" resisting efforts to curb them in an era when "many of our individual liberties are being whittled away."

Dewey yesterday designated Sept. 12-30 as "New York State Press Month" and Sept. 13 as "Newspaper Boy Day." The governor noted that the New York Press Association, representing weekly newspapers, would celebrate its 100th anniversary here Sept. 11-14.

"One of the great glories of America is our free press," Dewey declared. He added:

"Many of our individual liberties are being whittled away but the newspapers of the United States have sturdily and successfully resisted all efforts to curb their honest utterance. * * *

"The most powerful proof of the importance of freedom lies in the activities of our American papers.

"To them we owe not only our political independence but also our economic, spiritual and intellectual growth. Religion, the sciences, the arts, all depend upon an enlightened and sympathetic press."

Ike Kept Off Air

St. Louis, Sept. 10 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's speech here Sept. 20 may be kept off radio and television by a jurisdictional labor dispute. James E. Darst, chairman of the Municipal Auditorium Commission, said yesterday the city has banned radio and TV installations from the auditorium, site of the talk, until the dispute is settled. Darst said the AFL Stagehands Union and Electrical Workers Union both want to install facilities for broadcasts. The dispute is before a joint jurisdictional board at Washington, Darst said, but no decision is expected for several weeks.

Auto Operators Get Another Reminder

Albany, Sept. 10—It's 21 days before driver license deadline for hundreds of thousands of New York motorists, Motor Vehicle Commissioner James R. Macduff reminded today.

More than three million three-year operator licenses expire at midnight September 30. Renewals have been coming in steadily, the Bureau reports, but a million or more drivers still haven't acted.

The Bureau urges:

1—Look at your license. If it expires this month, act now. Don't stand in last-minute lines.

2—Answer all questions on the form—or your application will be returned.

3—Make your application to your local issuing office—in most counties, the county clerk's office.

If you fail to renew on time, you are subject to arrest as an unlicensed driver, the Bureau warned.

Bribe Indictments Will Be Sought

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Bribery indictments will be sought in the Federal Grand Jury investigation of job-buying charges in the New York Post Office, U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane said yesterday.

Lane declined to name the persons involved or give their positions but said there is enough evidence to charge them with offering or taking money in deals for promotions. No amounts were disclosed.

Conviction could bring a year in prison, $1,000 fine, or both.

Lane said it will take a week to present the evidence to the Grand Jury.

Henry B. Montague, postal inspector in charge of New York agents, said, "we have recommended criminal action on the basis of our findings."

Montague said there is nothing to connect former Postmaster Albert Goldman with the job-buying charges.

Goldman, who retired last April 19, would have had to retire in July because of his having reached the age limit of 70, Montague said.

Prisoners Are Quelled

El Reno, Okla., Sept. 10 (AP)—Some 155 prisoners at the federal reformatory here rioted yesterday, but quickly surrendered when guards fired tear gas into their midst. Warden W. H. Hardwick said the prisoners overpowered two guards and threw them into a cell shortly after they were released for breakfast. The guards were rescued unharmed. No damage was reported.

Dewey Gives Warning

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in Korea "might be worked out," but warns that it might encourage Red Chinese attacks on Formosa or Indo-China. "We would want to be very careful," said Dewey last night during a radio interview on ABC's "America's Town Meeting of the Air."

To Ask Indictment Of Grammer in Slaying of Wife

Baltimore, Sept. 10 (AP)—A special session of the grand jury was called today to hear 30 witnesses summoned to testify in the slaying of Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer, attractive 33-year-old mother of three children.

The jurors already have heard the testimony of a young woman identified as a Miss Mary Matthews, 28, of New York city, whom State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro called "more than a casual acquaintance" of the victim's husband, G. Edward Grammer.

Grammer, 35-year-old manager of a New York metals firm, has been held without bail on a charge of causing his wife's death. Sodaro said he would ask the grand jury to indict him.

Mrs. Grammer's body was found shortly after midnight on Aug. 20 by two policemen who saw a car speed down a sloping North Baltimore street, strike the side of the road and overturn.

Appeared as Crash Death

It first appeared she had been killed in the crash. After further investigation by detectives and the medical examiner, however, Sodaro and Dr. Russell S. Fisher called it homicide. Both agreed she could not have been killed by the crash alone.

Dr. Fisher's autopsy report showed the woman suffered severe blows on the head and apparently was dead or dying when the car was sent down the hill.

Grammer was arrested after extensive questioning about 10 days ago.

Money Is Returned

New York, Sept. 10 (AP) — An honest thief paid off yesterday. Last July a young Negro held up a 42nd street candy store, took $30 from the saleslady, her name and address, and promised to return the money in 30 days. "This is the first time I ever did anything like this, but I need the money bad," he said. A letter came to the saleslady, Mrs. Bertha Romano, yesterday. There was $30 and a note, signed "Your Friend." "Sorry I couldn't return it sooner," the note said.

Payments Stopped For Dairy League

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—The New York Metropolitan Milk Administrator has suspended cooperative payments from the milk pool's producer settlement fund to the Dairymen's Cooperative Association, Inc.

Also suspended are the designations as New York pool plants for two of the league's milk plants at Rutland and Brandon, both in Vermont.

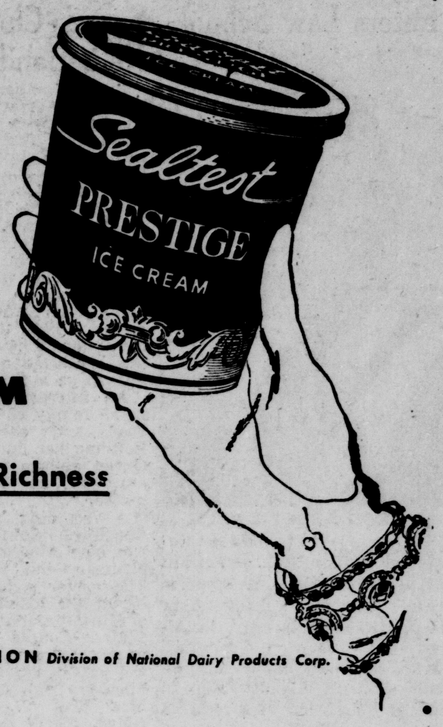

Dr. C. J. Blanford, milk administrator, announced the actions yesterday. He said the suspensions were the result of a written contract between the league and a dealer for the sale of the two Vermont plants' entire output for use in Boston and other New England markets. Blanford did not identify the dealer.

The contract, Blanford said, has caused the milk involved to be unavailable for use in the New York marketing area during times of short supply. He said the league "has surrendered to the buyer all control over the utilization of the milk involved."

Under federal-state milk marketing orders, the administrator must suspend cooperative payments when he has reason to believe that payment provisions of the marketing orders are not being complied with.

Payments Stopped For Dairy League

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—The New York Metropolitan Milk Administrator has suspended cooperative payments from the milk pool's producer settlement fund to the Dairymen's Cooperative Association, Inc.

Also suspended are the designations as New York pool plants for two of the league's milk plants at Rutland and Brandon, both in Vermont.

Dr. C. J. Blanford, milk administrator, announced the actions yesterday. He said the suspensions were the result of a written contract between the league and a dealer for the sale of the two Vermont plants' entire output for use in Boston and other New England markets. Blanford did not identify the dealer.

The contract, Blanford said, has caused the milk involved to be unavailable for use in the New York marketing area during times of short supply. He said the league "has surrendered to the buyer all control over the utilization of the milk involved."

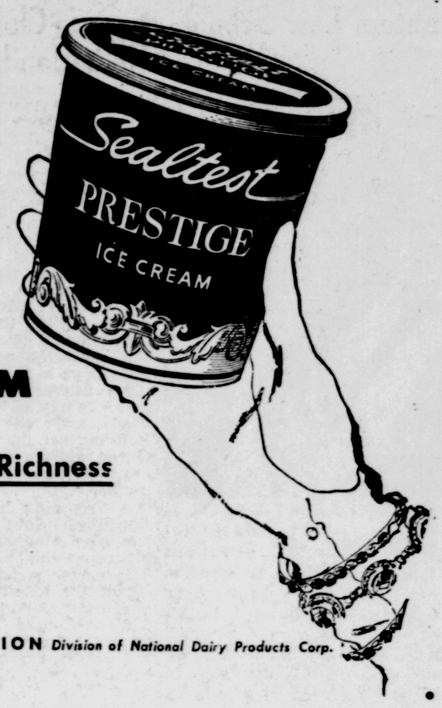

Under federal-state milk marketing orders, the administrator must suspend cooperative payments when he has reason to believe that payment provisions of the marketing orders are not being complied with.

"Whether or not you will reach the perfect happiness that God intended for you, through your profession, and whether or not you will reach success depends entirely upon the manner in which you fulfill your calling in life," he said.

The speaker entreated the future nurses "to reach the happiness God offers you through the means of the nursing vocation by doing your work not as a job but as a vocation. DON'T LEAVE CHILDREN

A mother writes: "I would appreciate settling an argument, if you will be so kind! Last Sunday, just at dinnertime, one of the men with whom my husband works brought his family to call. I have never met his wife, although she and her husband have called at our house several times while I was out of town and only my husband was home. My husband thinks I was very rude because I did not go out to the car and invite them in. I do not wish to appear unfriendly and certainly not ill-bred, but I have four very young children and they were seated at table waiting to be fed and I could not see any point in interrupting their dinner just to make small talk with people who live right here in town and could have called at any other time but mealtime. I think my husband should have gone out and explained the situation to them. What is your opinion, Mrs. Post? Was I really horribly rude as my husband seems to think?"

I agree with you completely. You could hardly have left the children to their own devices for more than a few moments.

Added Thanks

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I recently opened a new restaurant and have received many flowers and telegrams wishing us success. I have personally thanked many of the people and am wondering if it is necessary and proper to also send them a thank-you note?

Answer: If your verbal thanks were individually given and appreciatively expressed, no further thank-you is necessary. On the other hand, if you merely thanked a general group casually; notes in addition, even though not required, would meet with appreciation!

When Toasted

Dear Mrs. Post: If a toast is drunk to a guest, does he drink when the others do or wait? If, so, when may he drink? Please explain the correct procedure for this.

Answer: He never drinks a toast to himself. Perhaps he merely says "thank you" or perhaps he stands and proposes a toast to someone else (which he then drinks). Otherwise, when everyone is seated, he drinks the wine in his own glass — or not, as he pleases.

Cuss Word Reported On Radio Broadcast

Indianapolis, Sept. 10 (AP)—Somebody used a cuss word during the radio broadcast of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's political speech in Indianapolis last night. Many listeners thought it was the general.

The audience in the Butler Field House, including the press row, didn't hear the cuss word, but many in the nationwide radio audience did. Listeners lighted up switchboards in radio stations and newspaper offices to ask about it.

Eisenhower wasn't available for comment, and his aides weren't talking about the incident.

A half dozen reporters and two radio technicians later played back a tape recording of the speech in an Indianapolis radio station. They agreed unanimously it was Eisenhower's voice saying: "Damn it."

However, Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star and the Indianapolis News and an active Eisenhower supporter, disagreed. Pulliam, who was sitting close to Eisenhower, said a radio technician spoke the words.

It happened as a burst of applause from the audience interrupted the speech of the Republican presidential nominee. Eisenhower was speaking with the aid of a Teleprompter. The aside, as the news men heard it on the tape playback:

"Go ahead! Go ahead! Go ahead! Yah, damn it I want him to move up."

Has Happy Ending

Dutch Flat, Calif., Sept. 10 (AP)—Elderly Jess Hughes didn't get much time to enjoy the house neighbors built for him Sunday in an all-day community building bee. Less than 24 hours after it was erected, the house burned to the ground when a fire hit the community. But there's a happy ending. An insurance agent who was unable to contribute time or material to the house donated an insurance policy.

7,000 Return to Jobs

Clifton, N. J., Sept. 10 (AP)—Some 7,000 workers at six plants of the Federal Telephone and Radio Corporation return to their jobs today, ending a strike over a wage dispute. The striking CIO workers voted last night to end the walkout and accept a 12-cent hourly wage increase provided in a new formula worked out with federal and state mediators.

Why Do More?

W. J. Sussin

No matter what your illness may be, the basic cause is the loss of nerve energy.

Just as there is only one cause for all sickness, so there can be only one cure. That cure is to relieve the nerves from all pressure and interference, and so restore to all parts of the body an uninterrupted flow of nerve impulses. That is exactly what a chiropractic adjustment does.

It is not necessary to diet, take medicine, indulge in exercise, massage, sun baths or physics. You have probably tried one or all of these methods already and yet you are still sick. Why repeat failure methods?

When the chiropractic adjustment removes the cause of your dis-ease, health follows—Why do more?

A half dozen reporters and two radio technicians later played back a tape recording of the speech in an Indianapolis radio station. They agreed unanimously it was Eisenhower's voice saying: "Damn it."

However, Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of the Indianapolis Star and the Indianapolis News and an active Eisenhower supporter, disagreed. Pulliam, who was sitting close to Eisenhower, said a radio technician spoke the words.

It happened as a burst of applause from the audience interrupted the speech of the Republican presidential nominee. Eisenhower was speaking with the aid of a Teleprompter. The aside, as the news men heard it on the tape playback:

"Go ahead! Go ahead! Go ahead! Yah, damn it I want him to move up."

Has Happy Ending

Dutch Flat, Calif., Sept. 10 (AP)—Elderly Jess Hughes didn't get much time to enjoy the house neighbors built for him Sunday in an all-day community building bee. Less than 24 hours after it was erected, the house burned to the ground when a fire hit the community. But there's a happy ending. An insurance agent who was unable to contribute time or material to the house donated an insurance policy.

Why Do More?

W. J. Sussin

No matter what your illness may be, the basic cause is the loss of nerve energy.

Just as there is only one cause for all sickness, so there can be only one cure. That cure is to relieve the nerves from all pressure and interference, and so restore to all parts of the body an uninterrupted flow of nerve impulses. That is exactly what a chiropractic adjustment does.

It is not necessary to diet, take medicine, indulge in exercise, massage, sun baths or physics. You have probably tried one or all of these methods already and yet you are still sick. Why repeat failure methods?

When the chiropractic adjustment removes the cause of your dis-ease, health follows—Why do more?

Dodgers Rally in Fifth to Nip Red Sox, 2-1, for LL Championship

Newell Winds Up Great Season With 4-Hitter

Volker's Pinch Double Key Hit of Contest

The Little League Dodgers are awaiting word from Ebbets Field to see what the oldies do about the National League pennant.

The small fry of the KAA circuit took care of their end of the job yesterday with a thrilling 2-1 victory over the Red Sox to wrap up the 1952 championship in two straight games.

The teams had battled to a monumental 13-13 tie in three innings Monday evening when darkness halted the game. It would have been an unofficial game, anyway, but the Dodgers came up with nine runs in the bottom of the third to create a 13-13-deadlock.

Newell Wins

Southpaw Glenn Newell, who is the class of the league's pitchers, graduated magna cum laude with yesterday's four-hit stint against the Red Sox. He walked four and struck out 12 and ignited the Dodgers' winning rally with a single.

Newell's farewell from the league was accompanied by a record that equalled the heroic feats of Tony Turck in the 1951 campaign.

But in spite of Newell's skill and savvy, the clubs might still be battling if young Jimmy Cullum hadn't left home plate unguarded in a tight spot. Young Kruger, incidentally, was a whale of a pitcher himself, yielding only three hits and fanning six.

Kruger was working on a 2-hit shutout when Newell singled to open the fifth. Jim Volker followed with a pinch double and Newell scored when nobody covered home. Volker went to third on the play and scored on a wild pitch by Kruger.

Red Sox Score First

A base on balls to Tom Cragan, an infield out and Tom Hallinan's single had put the Red Sox ahead, 1-0, in the top of the fifth. Newell got by the top of the sixth in good shape and the curtain came down on the second year of Little League baseball in Kingston.

Hallinan's single was his second hit of the game. Don Kruger and Charlie Boice, who played center, collected the other Red Sox safeties. Bob Pratt, Newell and Jim Volker's pinch double accounted for the Dodger total off Kruger.

In Monday's wild three-inning slugfest, the Sox and Dodgers sprayed basehits all over the 156th FA diamond.

Charlie Boice pitched three innings for the Sox, while George Uhl and Hobart Armstrong shared the chores for the Dodgers.

Mike Perry rapped three singles and Boice had a pair of doubles for the Sox. Tom Cragan got two hits as did Bob Hoffman of the Dodgers.

Kearns in Middle Of Maxim Muddle

Montreal, Sept. 10 (AP)—The next move in the squabble between light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim and the U. S. and British boxing fathers was up to Jack Kearns, the titleholder's manager, today.

Maxim and Kearns had been suspended by the New York State Athletic Commission at the request of the British Boxing Board of Control for refusing to meet the British champ, Randy Turpin, in London. Kearns claimed no such promise was made.

The National Boxing Association, in convention here, had been asked to concur on the suspension, but after two days of talks a compromise was reached.

This called for Maxim to meet Archie Moore of St. Louis, a leading contender, in a title match within 60 days. The winner of this bout then would meet Turpin within 90 days.

The convention elected George Barton of Minneapolis as president, succeeding Dave Rochon of Montreal.

Cardinals in Pennant Picture; Yanks' Lead Sliced to One Set

The weary New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, stumbling along the rocky road to Pennantville, are finding their paths blocked by revenge-minded former teammates.

The Yankees' lead over Cleveland was a skimpy one game today following last night's 5-4 loss to the Browns in St. Louis and the Indians' 6-1 triumph over Bobby Shantz and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Brooklyn's once seemingly safe 10½-game bulge over New York dwindled to four as a result of yesterday's 7-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs, several hours after the Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 11-6.

Brooklyn's woes were further increased by the rapid climb of St. Louis' "longshot" Cardinals, who pushed back into the pennant picture with a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies that left them 6½ lengths off the pace.

Former Yankees and Dodgers raised havoc with the league leaders last night, leading their clubs to telling triumphs over their erstwhile mates.

Two former Yankees — Dick Kryhoski and Clint Courtney — teamed up to bring victory to the Browns. Kryhoski, pinch hitting for winning pitcher Dick Littlefield, doubled off Ray Scarborough to open the last of the ninth. An infield hit and an intentional pass, sandwiched around an out, loaded the bases.

Ex-Mates Rap Yanks

Scarborough's third pitch to Courtney hit the catcher and forced home Ray Coleman, running for Kryhoski, with the winning run. It was four-time loser Littlefield's first win of the season.

At Ebbets Field, former Dodgers Dee Fondy and Toby Atwell proved the big hatchetmen as knuckleballer Warren Hacker stifled the Brooklyn hitters with seven safeties. Fondy smashed a run-scoring triple and Atwell chipped in with a single that drove in one of the tallies in Chicago's big five-run, fourth-inning rally against loser Ray Moore and Joe Landrum. Only a seventh-inning home run by Roy Campanella prevented the 13-game winning Hacker from racking up his fifth shutout of the season.

Early Wynn reached his 20-victory goal for the second straight season as he pitched the Indians to their sixth straight triumph. Held scoreless through five innings by Shantz, the Indians rallied for two runs in the sixth and added six more in the eighth to hand the little lefthander his seventh setback. It was Shantz' fourth straight loss in an attempt to gain his 23rd win.

Buc Errors Help

A dozen Giant hits, including homers by Monte Irvin, Don Mueller and Alvin Dark, helped rookie Bill Connelly rack up his fifth straight success since joining the club in mid-August. Five Pittsburgh errors presented the Giants with six unearned runs.

Solly Hemus' bases-loaded single and Red Schoendienst's two-run double featured a five-run, ninth-inning uprising that gave the Cardinals their uphill triumph over the Phillies. Stan Musial got his 2,000th major league hit for St. Louis.

Chicago's White Sox advanced to third place in the American League, taking a pair of 3-2 decisions from Washington. Pitcher Saul Rogovin batted in the first two runs and scored the winning run on a 12th-inning single by Nellie Fox in the opener. Pinch hitter Sam Mele homered in the last of the ninth to give Harry Dorish the second game win over rookie Mike Fornieles.

Successive homers by Cliff Mapes and Joe Ginsberg in the last half of the 11th gave Detroit a 4-3 victory over Boston.

Stranahan Ready For Western Test

Chicago, Sept. 10 (AP)—While other entrants struggled to break par in a 36-hole qualifying test, defending champion Frank Stranahan breezed around Exmoor's exacting course at ease and definitely is tabbed the man to beat in the 50th jubilee of the Western Amateur golf tourney.

Thirty-two match play twosomes tee off today, each man hoping to win this prestige championship.

Stranahan, seeking his fourth Western crown, was exempted from qualifying. But he played along with the record field of 223 yesterday and carded a one under par 70.

The teams had battled to a monumental 13-13 tie in three innings Monday evening when darkness halted the game. It would have been an unofficial game, anyway, but the Dodgers came up with nine runs in the bottom of the third to create a 13-13-deadlock.

Newell Wins

Southpaw Glenn Newell, who is the class of the league's pitchers, graduated magna cum laude with yesterday's four-hit stint against the Red Sox. He walked four and struck out 12 and ignited the Dodgers' winning rally with a single.

Newell's farewell from the league was accompanied by a record that equalled the heroic feats of Tony Turck in the 1951 campaign.

But in spite of Newell's skill and savvy, the clubs might still be battling if young Jimmy Cullum hadn't left home plate unguarded in a tight spot. Young Kruger, incidentally, was a whale of a pitcher himself, yielding only three hits and fanning six.

Kruger was working on a 2-hit shutout when Newell singled to open the fifth. Jim Volker followed with a pinch double and Newell scored when nobody covered home. Volker went to third on the play and scored on a wild pitch by Kruger.

Red Sox Score First

A base on balls to Tom Cragan, an infield out and Tom Hallinan's single had put the Red Sox ahead, 1-0, in the top of the fifth. Newell got by the top of the sixth in good shape and the curtain came down on the second year of Little League baseball in Kingston.

Hallinan's single was his second hit of the game. Don Kruger and Charlie Boice, who played center, collected the other Red Sox safeties. Bob Pratt, Newell and Jim Volker's pinch double accounted for the Dodger total off Kruger.

In Monday's wild three-inning slugfest, the Sox and Dodgers sprayed basehits all over the 156th FA diamond.

Charlie Boice pitched three innings for the Sox, while George Uhl and Hobart Armstrong shared the chores for the Dodgers.

Mike Perry rapped three singles and Boice had a pair of doubles for the Sox. Tom Cragan got two hits as did Bob Hoffman of the Dodgers.

Kearns in Middle Of Maxim Muddle

Montreal, Sept. 10 (AP)—The next move in the squabble between light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim and the U. S. and British boxing fathers was up to Jack Kearns, the titleholder's manager, today.

Maxim and Kearns had been suspended by the New York State Athletic Commission at the request of the British Boxing Board of Control for refusing to meet the British champ, Randy Turpin, in London. Kearns claimed no such promise was made.

The National Boxing Association, in convention here, had been asked to concur on the suspension, but after two days of talks a compromise was reached.

This called for Maxim to meet Archie Moore of St. Louis, a leading contender, in a title match within 60 days. The winner of this bout then would meet Turpin within 90 days.

Kearns can get off the hook with his fighter by signing with Moore.

The convention elected George Barton of Minneapolis as president, succeeding Dave Rochon of Montreal.

Cardinals in Pennant Picture; Yanks' Lead Sliced to One Set

The weary New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, stumbling along the rocky road to Pennantville, are finding their paths blocked by revenge-minded former teammates.

The Yankees' lead over Cleveland was a skimpy one game today following last night's 5-4 loss to the Browns in St. Louis and the Indians' 6-1 triumph over Bobby Shantz and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Brooklyn's once seemingly safe 10½-game bulge over New York dwindled to four as a result of yesterday's 7-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs, several hours after the Giants beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 11-6.

Brooklyn's woes were further increased by the rapid climb of St. Louis' "longshot" Cardinals, who pushed back into the pennant picture with a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies that left them 6½ lengths off the pace.

Former Yankees and Dodgers raised havoc with the league leaders last night, leading their clubs to telling triumphs over their erstwhile mates.

Two former Yankees — Dick Kryhoski and Clint Courtney — teamed up to bring victory to the Browns. Kryhoski, pinch hitting for winning pitcher Dick Littlefield, doubled off Ray Scarborough to open the last of the ninth. An infield hit and an intentional pass, sandwiched around an out, loaded the bases.

Ex-Mates Rap Yanks

Scarborough's third pitch to Courtney hit the catcher and forced home Ray Coleman, running for Kryhoski, with the winning run. It was four-time loser Littlefield's first win of the season.

At Ebbets Field, former Dodgers Dee Fondy and Toby Atwell proved the big hatchetmen as knuckleballer Warren Hacker stifled the Brooklyn hitters with seven safeties. Fondy smashed a run-scoring triple and Atwell chipped in with a single that drove in one of the tallies in Chicago's big five-run, fourth-inning rally against loser Ray Moore and Joe Landrum. Only a seventh-inning home run by Roy Campanella prevented the 13-game winning Hacker from racking up his fifth shutout of the season.

Early Wynn reached his 20-victory goal for the second straight season as he pitched the Indians to their sixth straight triumph. Held scoreless through five innings by Shantz, the Indians rallied for two runs in the sixth and added six more in the eighth to hand the little lefthander his seventh setback. It was Shantz' fourth straight loss in an attempt to gain his 23rd win.

Buc Errors Help

A dozen Giant hits, including homers by Monte Irvin, Don Mueller and Alvin Dark, helped rookie Bill Connelly rack up his fifth straight success since joining the club in mid-August. Five Pittsburgh errors presented the Giants with six unearned runs.

Solly Hemus' bases-loaded single and Red Schoendienst's two-run double featured a five-run, ninth-inning uprising that gave the Cardinals their uphill triumph over the Phillies. Stan Musial got his 2,000th major league hit for St. Louis.

Chicago's White Sox advanced to third place in the American League, taking a pair of 3-2 decisions from Washington. Pitcher Saul Rogovin batted in the first two runs and scored the winning run on a 12th-inning single by Nellie Fox in the opener. Pinch hitter Sam Mele homered in the last of the ninth to give Harry Dorish the second game win over rookie Mike Fornieles.

Successive homers by Cliff Mapes and Joe Ginsberg in the last half of the 11th gave Detroit a 4-3 victory over Boston.

Stranahan Ready For Western Test

Chicago, Sept. 10 (AP)—While other entrants struggled to break par in a 36-hole qualifying test, defending champion Frank Stranahan breezed around Exmoor's exacting course at ease and definitely is tabbed the man to beat in the 50th jubilee of the Western Amateur golf tourney.

Thirty-two match play twosomes tee off today, each man hoping to win this prestige championship.

Stranahan, seeking his fourth Western crown, was exempted from qualifying. But he played along with the record field of 223 yesterday and carded a one under par 70.

Five-Run Rally in Seventh Keeps Wiltwyck Motors Hopes Alive

Overcome Colonial Merchants' 4-0 Lead To Capture 5-4 Squeaker in City League

Thanks to a last-inning finish that would have made Snapper Garrison blush with envy, the Wiltwyck Motors are still alive and kicking in the rousing second half scramble of the City Baseball League.

They clutched at straws in the bottom of the seventh but before the tumultuous inning had ended the Highland sluggers had chased five runs across the plate to nose out Pucker Davis' crew, 5 to 4.

The victory kept the Motormen "alive" in the loss column and they can make it all square with Jones Dairy by repeating their squeaker over the Merchants Thursday evening at 6 p. m.

Arrangements for the second half playoff between Wiltwycks and Joneses will be announced following Thursday's contest. If the Motormen lose, the league will close out its books for the 1952 campaign.

Motormen Rally

George Telepas, the brilliant young southpaw, pitched beautifully for six innings against the Highland powerhouse. He was working on a shutout when the Motormen suddenly came alive.

Manager Davis' strategy at this point caused some eyebrows to be lifted among the railbirds. He had one of his regular pitchers warming up during the Wiltwyck bombardment but, when he lifted Telepas, he made a surprise move and called in Chuck Engle with two outs and the score tied.

Bud Finn pitched effectively for the Wiltwycks except for the third inning when two hits, a couple of walks and an error combined for three runs. With Telepas blowing down the hitters it looked like curtains for the Motormen when they came to bat trailing 4-0 in the last of the seventh.

Key Error Hurts

Danny Minadeo's single to left scored Finn and Tony Williams, batting for Frank Reis, walked to force in the second run. It was 4-2 now and the crucial play of the inning followed when Novachek picked up Johnny Minadeo's grounder and fired wildly over first base permitting Trapani and Minadeo to score with the tying runs. Williams was out at the plate on a fielder's choice and the Merchants seemed to be safely out of the woods.

With Engle pitching and J. Minadeo perched on third, Eddie Passante dropped a perfect bunt along the first base line and Minadeo romped home with the winning run. It was a perfect example of the squeeze play, one of the most potent scoring weapons of City League play.

The Merchants broke through with three runs in the third on a rally launched by Bill Slover's free stroll and steal of second. Felipe picked up Slover with a single. After Mike Carlino grounded out, Chuck Engle walked and Ward Dunham singled to left to cash Felipe for a 2-0 lead. Engle crossed with the third run when Trapani booted J. Carlino's grounder. Eddie Passante started a double play on Novachek's grounder to prevent further damage.

Chuck Engle's triple to center which led to the fourth Merchant marker in the seventh was the lone extra base blow of the contest. He also had a single in three trips. Dunham poled two hits, while Augie Passante, Tim Murphy and Ed Trapani each clouted two safeties for Wiltwycks.

Wiltwycks are expected to send Jo Digastino against Angie Fondino in Thursday's game.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

"You had too much pitching for us," was Les Brink's explanation for the Saugerties defeat in the Old Timers game Sunday.

"That Babe was faster than he was 20 years ago and Bill Thomas never pitched better in his life," continued the lament.

"Could be," said a guy, "that the Babe had been warming up for this one for a couple of months. You know Junior is a catcher in the Little League."

"Even at that, if . . . . . we might have won it," persisted Brink, who works like a demon every year to put over the gala reunion of the old timers.

"And if you won it this time, it would be three in a row and there wouldn't be any more games," added the guy.

It was a stirring sight to watch the Greybeards in their two-inning slugfest. The Kingstonians corralled a few slightly young-ish greybeards like Jack Hartman, the old scorekeeper, Ronnie Van Keuren, Roy Van Buren and Art "Zipper" Parks. Hartman Van Keuren and Parks played their stint in civvies. The gang (Knight, Merritt et al) hasn't anything to kid Parks about. His line drive single to left was one of the best blows of the day.

Hank Cragan, who swings as rhythmically as he did two decades ago, complained about Oscar Schienker's curve-ball pitching.

"I thought I had seen the last curve ball in my life," he moaned, "but here's a 62-year-old pitcher throwing curves at a 52-year-old batter. It doesn't add up, does it?" It added up for "0 for 2" for Hankus Pankus.

Dewey Van Buren saw no action on the battlefield but he kept the crowd in stitches with his clowning as a first base coach. Dressed in an ensemble that would do justice to Buster Kenny of the old Detroit Clowns, Dewey put on the show of his life.

Most of the guys summed it up this way:

"What's happened to him all of a sudden?"

"There's money in that act," quipped Pres Knight. "I wonder if Dewey would like to go on the road."

Thomas A. Davitt, the commissioner, set a new fashion trend with air-conditioned pants, cut off at the knees. . . . By special permission of the baseball commissioner, Earl "Gabby" Benjamin played twice. He opened as catcher then played centerfield. He contributed a nice fielding lapse in behalf of Kingston, for which the boys were grateful.

When Benjamin tok his place in the pasturé, Charlie Lay, the ageless outfielder, was fast with the quip:

"That's not the best outfield in baseball, but it's sure the heaviest." (Benjamin (245), Ted Freligh (230), Joe "Boots" Buytkins (225). . . . Joe Benjamin took a few fast riffles behind the plate and then scooted to Kingston for a City League game with Jones Dairy.

Bill Thomas, who served as co-manager with Tommy Davitt, attributed the Kingston victory to their unfailing success against Ted Freligh.

"We handled the big guy today," Bill said, "and when that happens Saugerties hasn't got too much to worry us."

Freligh got one hit on a liner to center which seemed to have Pres Knight mesmerized for the moment.

"I came in on the ball, stopped, and suddenly realized I was several feet short," was the Knight explanation.

John McCardle, the old Kingston All Stars manager, would have been happy in Saugerties. In the days of yore when baseball was baseball, it was 2 to 1 the All Stars would be playing in Saugerties every other Sunday. Mac would have liked his old dream outfield (Knight, Jimmy Merritt and Lay) in action Sunday. And that Joe Messinger "2 for 2."

How about that Frank "Boots" Leskie? He played eight innings without relief, clouted three hits and was terrific at shortstop! Hank Baker, Bill Finger, now of Newburgh, and "Monk" McCormack were as trim as in their heydey. . . . Holly Cantine, the best-dressed player in the Greybeard game, took three majestic whiffs and called it a day. Eddie Baker's pitching motion still flowing poetry. . . . The old Saugerties reliables Charlie Gilmore and Roy Helsmortel (also Chief Richter and Larry Cahill) very much in evidence. Rocky Maxon, of the younger set, turned in a couple of Joe Gordon plays in the sixth. The bantering between Lay and Lefty Martin, who loked pretty fast for a couple of innings on the mound, was as lively as usual. Eddie Scherer delighted the crowd by getting in one of his famous "quick deliveries" on an unsuspecting batter. The feigned rhubarb with Umpire Frank Whitaker that followed was Grade A hilarity. Tommy Lewis and Ralphie Williams looked trim and eager.

'Leap of Death' Top Daredevil Stunt For Beam's Show

The daring "Leap of Death" in which a man drives stock car up a steep ramp at high speed and goes hurtling off through space over a standard-length highway bus and then lands atop a group of parked cars is one of the spectacular stunts featured by Ward Beam's World Champion Auto Daredevils.

The Daredevils are scheduled to appear at Kingston municipal stadium Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock under the sponsorship of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club.

Beam, owner of the show, admits that the bus leap is the most popular event on a list of more than 25 in the company's repertoire.

The bus jump is the stunt that killed the late, great Luckey Teeter and also accounted for the demise of the Jack Perry of Beam's Daredevils.

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Grid coach Lefty James of Cornell University is shifting his linemen around. Five-Run Rally in Seventh Keeps Wiltwyck Motors Hopes Alive

Overcome Colonial Merchants' 4-0 Lead To Capture 5-4 Squeaker in City League

Thanks to a last-inning finish that would have made Snapper Garrison blush with envy, the Wiltwyck Motors are still alive and kicking in the rousing second half scramble of the City Baseball League.

They clutched at straws in the bottom of the seventh but before the tumultuous inning had ended the Highland sluggers had chased five runs across the plate to nose out Pucker Davis' crew, 5 to 4.

The victory kept the Motormen "alive" in the loss column and they can make it all square with Jones Dairy by repeating their squeaker over the Merchants Thursday evening at 6 p. m.

Arrangements for the second half playoff between Wiltwycks and Joneses will be announced following Thursday's contest. If the Motormen lose, the league will close out its books for the 1952 campaign.

Motormen Rally

George Telepas, the brilliant young southpaw, pitched beautifully for six innings against the Highland powerhouse. He was working on a shutout when the Motormen suddenly came alive.

Manager Davis' strategy at this point caused some eyebrows to be lifted among the railbirds. He had one of his regular pitchers warming up during the Wiltwyck bombardment but, when he lifted Telepas, he made a surprise move and called in Chuck Engle with two outs and the score tied.

Bud Finn pitched effectively for the Wiltwycks except for the third inning when two hits, a couple of walks and an error combined for three runs. With Telepas blowing down the hitters it looked like curtains for the Motormen when they came to bat trailing 4-0 in the last of the seventh.

Key Error Hurts

Danny Minadeo's single to left scored Finn and Tony Williams, batting for Frank Reis, walked to force in the second run. It was 4-2 now and the crucial play of the inning followed when Novachek picked up Johnny Minadeo's grounder and fired wildly over first base permitting Trapani and Minadeo to score with the tying runs. Williams was out at the plate on a fielder's choice and the Merchants seemed to be safely out of the woods.

With Engle pitching and J. Minadeo perched on third, Eddie Passante dropped a perfect bunt along the first base line and Minadeo romped home with the winning run. It was a perfect example of the squeeze play, one of the most potent scoring weapons of City League play.

The Merchants broke through with three runs in the third on a rally launched by Bill Slover's free stroll and steal of second. Felipe picked up Slover with a single. After Mike Carlino grounded out, Chuck Engle walked and Ward Dunham singled to left to cash Felipe for a 2-0 lead. Engle crossed with the third run when Trapani booted J. Carlino's grounder. Eddie Passante started a double play on Novachek's grounder to prevent further damage.

Chuck Engle's triple to center which led to the fourth Merchant marker in the seventh was the lone extra base blow of the contest. He also had a single in three trips. Dunham poled two hits, while Augie Passante, Tim Murphy and Ed Trapani each clouted two safeties for Wiltwycks.

Wiltwycks are expected to send Jo Digastino against Angie Fondino in Thursday's game.

"You had too much pitching for us," was Les Brink's explanation for the Saugerties defeat in the Old Timers game Sunday.

Sealed proposals will be received and considered by the undersigned Fire District Treasurer of The West Hurley No. 1 Fire District, in the Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, at West Hurley School House, in West Hurley, New York, at 3 o'clock P.M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time (2 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time) on the 17th day of September, 1952, at which time and place the bids will be opened, for the purchase at not less than par and accrued interest of $80,000 Fire District (Serial) Bonds, 1952, of said Fire District, dated April 1, 1952, in the denomination of $1,000 each, except one bond maturing in each of the first ten years, which shall be in the denomination of $50 each, and except for one bond maturing in each of the last ten years, which shall be in the denomination of $950 each, maturing $5,050 on April 1 in each of the years 1953 to 1962, both inclusive, and $2,950 on April 1 in each of the years 1963 to 1972, both inclusive, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually October 1 and April 1. Principal and interest of said bonds are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the State of New York National Bank, in Kingston, New York. Bonds will be in bearer form with coupons attached and may be converted into fully registered bonds, and will be valid and legally binding general obligations of The West Hurley No. 1 Fire District, in the Town of Hurley, all the taxable real property within which District will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

Each bid must be for all of said $80,000 bonds and state a single rate of interest therefor. Unless all bids are rejected, the award will be made to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, not exceeding the rate above specified, stated in a multiple of one-quarter or one-tenth of one per centum per annum, without reference to premium, provided, however, that if two or more bidders offer to purchase said bonds at the same lowest rate of interest, then such award will be made to the bidder offering the highest premium. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, and any bid not complying with this Notice of Sale will be rejected. Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the undersigned Fire District Treasurer, and should be marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds" and must be accompanied with a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company to the order of said Fire District for $1,600 as a good faith deposit to secure the Fire District against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the good faith deposit. Said bonds are issued pursuant to the Constitution and statutes of the State of New York, including among others, the Town Law and the Local Finance Law, to pay the costs of the purchase of a fire truck ($21,000) and the construction and equipment of a fire house ($59,000), the period of probable usefulness of each of which is ten years and twenty years, respectively.

In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds, the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase the bonds, and in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

Said bonds will be delivered at New York, New York, or at such other place as may be agreed with the purchaser about October 8, 1952.

The approving opinion of Messrs. Vandewater, Sykes, Heckler & Galloway, Attorneys of New York City, will be furnished to the purchaser without cost. The usual no-litigation statement will be included in the closing papers.

The population of the Fire District is estimated to be 1,500. The Debt Statement to be filed pursuant to Section 109.00 of the Local Finance Law, in connection with the sale of the bonds herein described, prepared as of August 27, 1952, will show the average assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation by the Fire District to be $3,289,355.00, its debt limit to be $164,467.75, and its total net indebtedness to be $38,000.00. Bond anticipation notes in the amount of $38,000.00 heretofore issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds have been included in computing such net indebtedness and such notes will be redeemed from the proceeds of the bonds. A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder upon request.

Dated: West Hurley, New York,
August 27, 1952.

Durocher Suspended For Bean-Ball Game

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Leo Durocher started serving his third suspension of the season today as his New York Giants faced the Pittsburgh Pirates in the second of their three-game series.

The latest suspension is for two days. It was handed to the fiery manager by National League President Warren Giles for the bean-balling incident in the New York-Brooklyn game Monday afternoon.

Durocher was held responsible for Monte Kennedy throwing at Joe Black but the suspension was held to a minimum because the Giant pilot removed his pitcher after a warning by the umpires. Leo also was fined $100.

Other Giants fined were Kennedy and Larry Jansen, who hit Billy Cox with a pitch in the ninth inning and was ordered from the game by plate umpire Lee Ballanfant. Kennedy was fined $50 and Jansen $25.

Because of Jansen's excellent record, his fine was remitted.

Durocher was forbidden to direct his club in today's and tomorrow's games.

Leo has been suspended twice before by Giles, once for the shin-kicking episode with umpire Bill Stewart in Philadelphia June 29 the other time for his near fist fight with umpire Augie Donatelli Aug. 17 at the Polo Grounds.

In a lengthy telegram to Giant officials, Giles said Kennedy was fined because it was believed that he threw deliberately at Brooklyn batters.

"Under the provisions of a bulletin sent to all clubs dated Aug. 5, Manager Durocher must be held accountable but this is not intended to imply that he gave any instruction to Kennedy to deliberately throw at any batter. On the contrary, it appears that Durocher did exercise some control of the situation by voluntarily removing Kennedy from the game after Kennedy was warned by the umpires."

Kennedy did not hit anybody but he drew a warning for two inside pitches to pitcher Black. Another Kennedy pitch sent Gil Hodges to the dirt in the seventh. Jansen hit Andy Pafko and Cox and Hoyt Wilhelm hit Hodges.

See Enough Ammo

Central Front, Korea, Sept. 10 (AP) — Ten U. S. congressmen toured the Korean battlefront today and reported they found no critical shortage of ammunition. One reason for their visit was to check reports that ammunition was in short supply. The congressmen issued a statement saying the ammunition supply is enough to meet the present tempo of the war. They are members of the appropriations subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee.

Eastern Daylight Saving Time (2 o'clock P.M. Eastern Standard Time) on the 17th day of September, 1952, at which time and place the bids will be opened, for the purchase at not less than par and accrued interest of $80,000 Fire District (Serial) Bonds, 1952, of said Fire District, dated April 1, 1952, in the denomination of $1,000 each, except one bond maturing in each of the first ten years, which shall be in the denomination of $50 each, and except for one bond maturing in each of the last ten years, which shall be in the denomination of $950 each, maturing $5,050 on April 1 in each of the years 1953 to 1962, both inclusive, and $2,950 on April 1 in each of the years 1963 to 1972, both inclusive, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually October 1 and April 1. Principal and interest of said bonds are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the State of New York National Bank, in Kingston, New York. Bonds will be in bearer form with coupons attached and may be converted into fully registered bonds, and will be valid and legally binding general obligations of The West Hurley No. 1 Fire District, in the Town of Hurley, all the taxable real property within which District will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

Each bid must be for all of said $80,000 bonds and state a single rate of interest therefor. Unless all bids are rejected, the award will be made to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, not exceeding the rate above specified, stated in a multiple of one-quarter or one-tenth of one per centum per annum, without reference to premium, provided, however, that if two or more bidders offer to purchase said bonds at the same lowest rate of interest, then such award will be made to the bidder offering the highest premium. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, and any bid not complying with this Notice of Sale will be rejected. Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the undersigned Fire District Treasurer, and should be marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds" and must be accompanied with a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company to the order of said Fire District for $1,600 as a good faith deposit to secure the Fire District against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the good faith deposit. Said bonds are issued pursuant to the Constitution and statutes of the State of New York, including among others, the Town Law and the Local Finance Law, to pay the costs of the purchase of a fire truck ($21,000) and the construction and equipment of a fire house ($59,000), the period of probable usefulness of each of which is ten years and twenty years, respectively.

In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds, the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase the bonds, and in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

Said bonds will be delivered at New York, New York, or at such other place as may be agreed with the purchaser about October 8, 1952.

The approving opinion of Messrs. Vandewater, Sykes, Heckler & Galloway, Attorneys of New York City, will be furnished to the purchaser without cost. The usual no-litigation statement will be included in the closing papers.

The population of the Fire District is estimated to be 1,500. The Debt Statement to be filed pursuant to Section 109.00 of the Local Finance Law, in connection with the sale of the bonds herein described, prepared as of August 27, 1952, will show the average assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation by the Fire District to be $3,289,355.00, its debt limit to be $164,467.75, and its total net indebtedness to be $38,000.00. Bond anticipation notes in the amount of $38,000.00 heretofore issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds have been included in computing such net indebtedness and such notes will be redeemed from the proceeds of the bonds. A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder upon request.

Durocher Suspended For Bean-Ball Game

New York, Sept. 10 (AP)—Leo Durocher started serving his third suspension of the season today as his New York Giants faced the Pittsburgh Pirates in the second of their three-game series.

The latest suspension is for two days. It was handed to the fiery manager by National League President Warren Giles for the bean-balling incident in the New York-Brooklyn game Monday afternoon.

Durocher was held responsible for Monte Kennedy throwing at Joe Black but the suspension was held to a minimum because the Giant pilot removed his pitcher after a warning by the umpires. Leo also was fined $100.

Other Giants fined were Kennedy and Larry Jansen, who hit Billy Cox with a pitch in the ninth inning and was ordered from the game by plate umpire Lee Ballanfant. Kennedy was fined $50 and Jansen $25.

Because of Jansen's excellent record, his fine was remitted.

Durocher was forbidden to direct his club in today's and tomorrow's games.

Leo has been suspended twice before by Giles, once for the shin-kicking episode with umpire Bil Stewart in Philadelphia June 29 the other time for his near fist fight with umpire Augie Donatelli Aug. 17 at the Polo Grounds.

In a lengthy telegram to Giant officials, Giles said Kennedy was fined because it was believed that he threw deliberately at Brooklyn batters.

"Under the provisions of a bulletin sent to all clubs dated Aug. 5, Manager Durocher must be held accountable but this is not intended to imply that he gave any instruction to Kennedy to deliberately throw at any batter. On the contrary, it appears that Durocher did exercise some control of the situation by voluntarily removing Kennedy from the game after Kennedy was warned by the umpires."

Kennedy did not hit anybody but he drew a warning for two inside pitches to pitcher Black. Another Kennedy pitch sent Gil Hodges to the dirt in the seventh. Jansen hit Andy Pafko and Cox and Hoyt Wilhelm hit Hodges.

See Enough Ammo

Central Front, Korea, Sept. 10 (AP) — Ten U. S. congressmen toured the Korean battlefront today and reported they found no critical shortage of ammunition. One reason for their visit was to check reports that ammunition was in short supply. The congressmen issued a statement saying the ammunition supply is enough to meet the present tempo of the war. They are members of the appropriations subcommittee of the House Armed Services Committee.

Greenkill Sewer Project Slated for Completion Soon

Work on the sewer blockage in the Greenkill avenue line near the intersection of Greenkill and Clinton avenues is "progressing very satisfactorily," Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk said today.

Work on the blockage, which was begun about two weeks ago, received a setback Saturday afternoon when the walls of the excavation broke and the trench was flooded. The Board of Public Works had anticipated such an emergency, however, and pumped out the trench by means of another manhole a short distance away.

Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of the BPW, said today that the line was "under control" and that pipe was being laid. "We should complete the job by the first of the week," he stated. He pointed out that when the excavation flooded Saturday the emergency pumps which had been installed at the second manhole were put into operation immediately and that none of the overflow got into the street.

20 Men on Job

Following the break the BPW had emergency crews working Saturday night and Sunday. Twenty men are now working on the job during the day and a pump crew is on duty continuously during the night hours.

Steuding said that metal sheeting was being set into the sides of the excavation but that when digging reached the block in the line the trench was flooded.

Newkirk called a special meeting of officials of the BPW, the board of health and the city engineer's office Sunday afternoon to discuss the situation and ascertain what measures should be taken.

The blockage in the sewer is about 25 feet below a manhole located at the intersection of Greenkill avenue and Clinton avenue.

Home Owners Are Praised by Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Gov. Dewey today lauded the practice of buying a home of one's own and said home-owners "will rarely be found on the side of crackpot or subversive movements."

Dewey made the observation in proclaiming Sept. 14-21 as "Home Week" in New York state.

The governor said the hope of owning a home "is an honorable ambition indeed and has been an important factor in the building of our social fabric, our personal independence and our prosperity."

Russians Reimpose Blockade of Highway

Berlin, Sept. 10 (AP)—Armed Russians reimposed their blockade of a highway between Berlin's American sector and a U. S. checkpoint to West Germany today after a brief let-up that followed a strong protest from U. S. High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly.

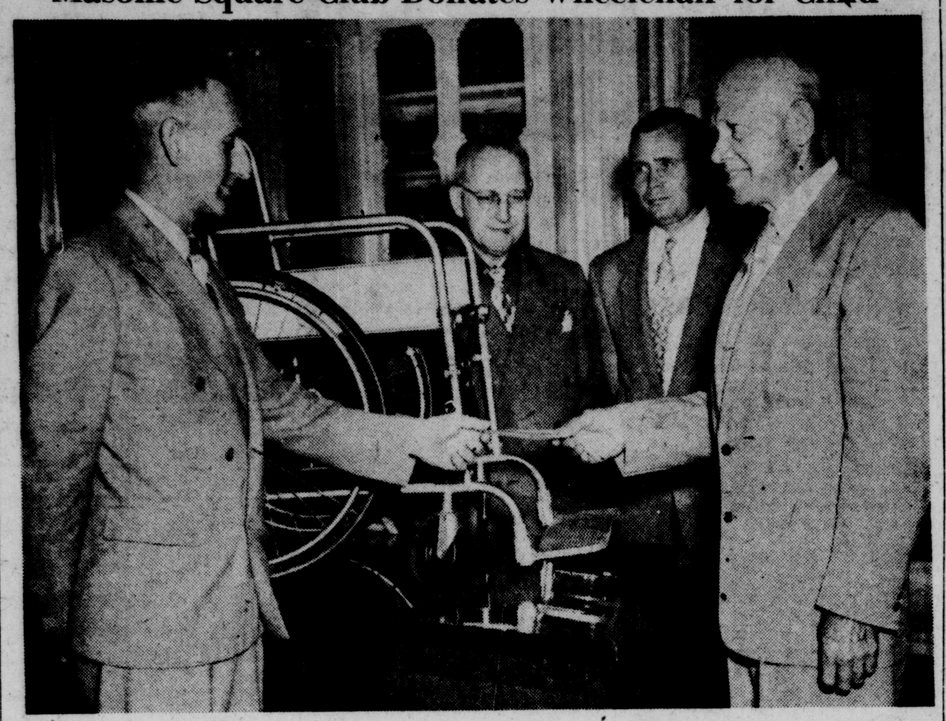

Russian troops halted an American patrol due to go on duty at a checkpoint at 7 a. m. today. Three U. S. soldiers in their jeep did not force the issue with the Soviet Tommy gunners. They took a detour which enabled them to reach the checkpoint without leaving the American sector.

The new Russian blockade came as a surprise to American authorities. The Russians had permitted the midnight patrol to go through unmolested after halting the three daytime shifts yesterday.

63 Bodies Recovered

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 10 (AP)—Salvage crews recovered 63 bodies today from the wreckage of the Danube ferry boat Nis that capsized here yesterday. Many victims were still numbered among the missing and authorities feared the death toll would exceed the previous estimate of 90.

Masons Plan Busy Year in Welfare Projects of Club

A meeting of the project and publicity committee of Kingston Masonic Square Club was held Tuesday evening at Masonic Temple, Albany avenue, for the purpose of making plans for the coming year. In addition to the committee members, consisting of N. Jansen Fowler as chairman, Dr. Irving Josephson and Herbert Powell, there were present at the meeting, Fred Ahlers, treasurer of the club, and Frank Strobel, an active member and trustee.

Kingston Masonic Square Club was organized for the purpose of aiding financially the health and welfare of children within the jurisdiction of Kingston Lodge 10, and Rondout Lodge 343, F & AM, whose needs are presented through school or other proper authorities.

The membership of the club is comprised of master masons, and the money received from dues is devoted exclusively in aiding under-privileged children.

Club Has Extensive Program

Among the past activities of the club has been the distribution of several gross of dental kits among the students of the Kingston school system. The club has also provided a number of children with glasses, has defrayed the cost of six tonsillectomies, and several complete blood tests. The club also distributed 1,000 vitamin tablets among the pupils of local schools last year.

The present officers of the club are George Radcliff, president; Charles L. Troll, vice-president; Carlton Plumb, secretary; Fred W. Ahlers, treasurer.

At the meeting Tuesday evening, the treasurer, Fred W. Ahlers, delivered to the committee a check for a wheelchair purchased by the committee for an eight-year-old child who would be unable to attend school without the use of the chair. Several further requests were considered, including a tonsillectomy recommended by the child's physician.

Informal discussion was held relative to reorganizing the club so as to more effectively carry out its purposes during the coming year. It is anticipated that a meeting of the club membership will be called shortly.

Pravda Warns of 'Strike'

Moscow, Sept. 10 (AP)—Pravda warned today that when the West German army is built up by the allies, it may strike towards the West—like Hitler did. Comparing the situation with that existing after World War 1, the Communist party organ said the United States has allied itself chiefly with West German "revengists." The aims of this group, it said, are directed just as much against the West European Nations as against the "camp of peace and democracy" in the East.

Vets Are Warned Against Rush Deals

World War 2 veterans were advised today by Howard Shurter, director of the local Veterans' Service Agency, and Donald Moore, state veteran counselor that it is not necessary for them to rush into a transaction in order to obtain the loan benefits of the GI Bill of Rights for the "deadline date" is approximately five years away.

Shurter said that GI loans will be made available to them up until July 25, 1957 and World War 2 veterans should carefully consider this fact before they engage their credit on loans for the purchase of homes, farms, or businesses.

Director Shurter and Counselor Moore point out there are, at the present time, scarcities of housing, farmland, machinery and equipment of all kinds. This scarcity, together with an enormously large demand, tends to boost prices to levels that are higher than normal.

Veterans who are, however, contemplating taking out such loans in the near future, are advised to contact The Ulster County Veterans' Service Agency, 32 Main street, to secure competent advice that may save them time, effort and a great deal of cash. The agency also maintains branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Marines to Meet Thursday Night

An important meeting of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the VFW Building, Delaware avenue.

All ex-marines are cordially invited to attend.

Nomination and election of new officers will take place. Other important business matters will be discussed.

West Germany, Israel Sign for Compensation

Luxembourg, Sept. 10 (AP)—West Germany and Israel signed agreements here today whereby the Bonn government will attempt to compensate Jewish victims of Nazi persecution.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett signed the first diplomatic exchange between the two nations in Luxembourg City Hall.

In the treaty, the Germans promise to pay Israel nearly 825 million dollars over a period of 12 to 14 years, depending on Germany's ability to pay.

Of this amount, 107 million dollars are earmarked for the Jewish Material Claims Conference and 715 million dollars go to the Israeli government to cover the cost of absorbing refugees from Germany and territories formerly under German rule.

It is to be paid largely in goods manufactured in Germany. The sum given the claims conference is compensation for heirless and unclaimed assets seized by the Nazis.

Two protocols covering the payment to the claims conference were signed by Adenauer and Dr. Mahun Goldmann of New York, chairman of the conference.

83rd Danbury Fair Opens Sept. 27th

The 83rd annual Danbury Fair opens Saturday, Sept. 27, for a nine-day run through Sunday, Oct. 5.

One of the special features will be New York Day scheduled Sunday, Sept. 28. There will be blue ribbon stadium contests on that day from 10:30 a. m. until 3 p. m.

The accent on the fair program this year will be agricultural. Ever since the fair closed last October the management has been directing its efforts to the presentation of exhibits showing the effect of the farm on the welfare of the nation.

Proposal Endorsed

Luxembourg City, Sept. 10 (AP)—Foreign ministers of the six Schuman plan nations last night endorsed a French-Italian proposal to develop the European steel and coal community into a political federation. A French foreign ministry spokesman said last week the proposal would call for a "political authority" which would have limited federal powers in the participating nations—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Come in and take a low-and-lovely Aero-Wing or Aero-Ace out on the road.

Take it easy at first. That's no ordinary engine under that down-swept hood—it's the power-crammed F-head Hurricane 6—and it will sprint from 20 to 60 in a matter of seconds.

Head into a hairpin curve and feel the road-steadiness you get with a 23-inch center of gravity. Idle it down, then stomp on it.

See how Willys' exclusive rubber-cushioned drive system swallows up tremor and vibration.

Drive at normal speed over rough, bumpy road and you'll say we're modest in calling it an "airborne" ride.

Check all else you get in an Aero Willys: Visibility that lets you see all four fenders. Seating width, front and rear, 61 inches. And mileage with the Hurricane Engine and overdrive* that, speed for speed, under the same conditions, surpasses every other six-passenger American car!

Fall in love with it? You'll be wild about it! Come on in . . . try it!
